Volume Two

The Spirit of Liberty High School

Who can say what strange element gives Liberty High School its unique personality? It is an evasive thing; no one can point to any one aspect of our life at Liberty and say, "This is it," for it is a combination of many different things.

It is the Peaks of Otter standing guard over Liberty, shadowing the land below as they have for countless centuries. It is the patient understanding and expert helpfulness of the school officials, the administration, and the teachers.

It is the zeal with which the student undertakes his tasks. It is the pride he takes in achievement and the impetus he gains from defeat.

It is the friendly smiles he meets as he goes through the day and the many friendships which lighten his load.

It is the drive of the Minutemen as they seek to bring glory to the school and the warm feeling which comes to their fans when they do.

It is even the routine changing of classes and the familiar chats in the halls before school and at lunch.

It is the growth that Liberty has shown in this its second year of being. It is the promise of future growth as L.H.S. takes its place among the superior high schools in the region.

It is the Spirit of Liberty High School.

LIBERTY HIGH SCHOOL . . . Our school, only two years old, is located just north of Bedford, Virginia. It was designed by J. H. Walker and Garland Gay and built by English Construction Company. Liberty is ultra-modern, built in campus style with covered walkways connecting the buildings. The junior and senior high school students are in separate buildings.

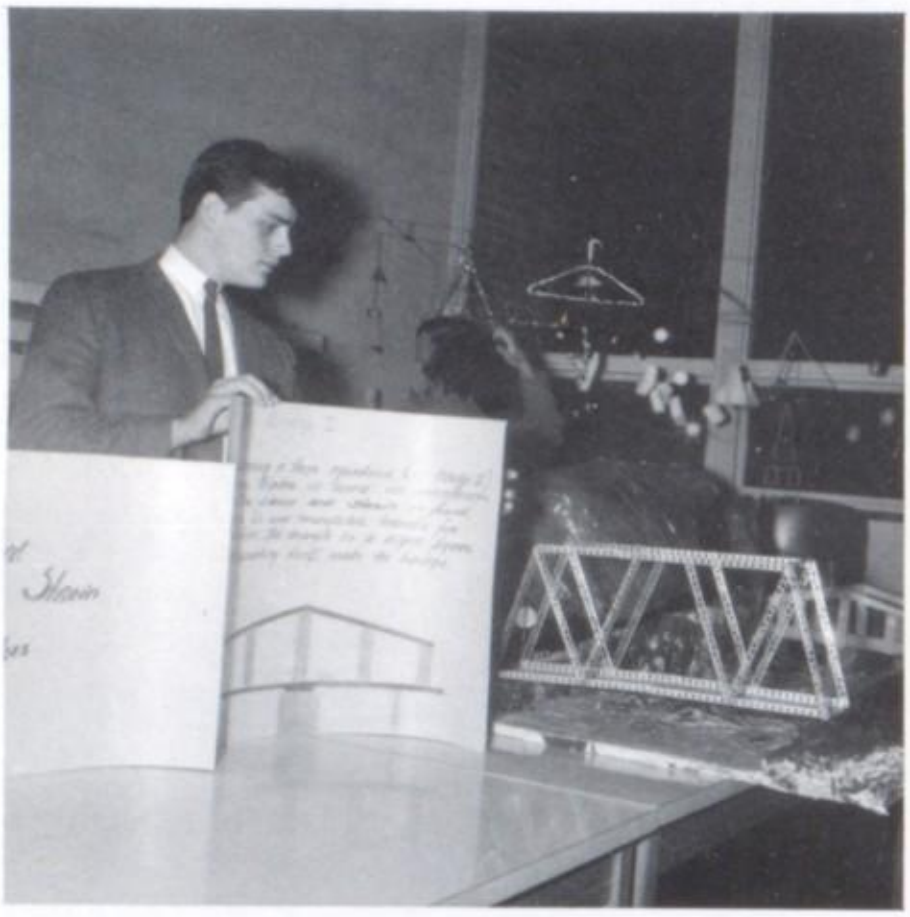
AND THEN THE TRAVELING SALESMAN SAID . . . Another joke falls flat for Kennon Walden, our SCA President, as he welcomes the students to a music assembly.

Growing in Two Short Years



BRIDGING THE GAP IN SCIENCE . . . Bobby Day examines his finished product, a demonstration of bridge construction, for the Mathorama.

ONCE THERE WERE GREEN FIELDS . . . The agriculture field at Liberty enables agricultural students to gain first-hand experience in one of the newest departments in the area.

BEWARE, OPPOSITION . . . A Franklin County football player is hung in effigy on the Homecoming float.

DECK US ALL WITH BOSTON CHARLIE . . . The cast of the Christmas play leads the student body in singing Christmas carols.

The birth and growth of the Spirit of Liberty High School was not spontaneous. It has required patience, cooperation, and much hard work on the part of the many people who have contributed to its growth.

Several years ago, school officials began dreaming and planning for a new consolidated school to meet the educational needs of the young people of Bedford County. Perhaps it was then that the Spirit first began to creep its way into existence.

In September of 1964, the dream was realized and Liberty High School first opened its doors. These first two years have certainly not been easy. There have been old ties to break and new ones to form. There have been standards to set and to meet. There have been traditions to begin for the years ahead. There has been a Spirit to build.

Each individual who has played a part in its development has reason to feel proud as the Spirit grows and thrives.

Into a Vital Force at L.H.S.

C'MON YA'LL, THAT'S SUPPOSED TO BE A "V" FOR VICTORY . . . Jimmy Holdren, drum major, calls for attention during a band drill. The band has developed style and skill in only one year of organization, promoting much enthusiasm among the students.

"DO WE HAVE ANY WHAT?" . . . Larry Gilly takes an order at a local drive-in restaurant as a result of a growing Distributive Education program.

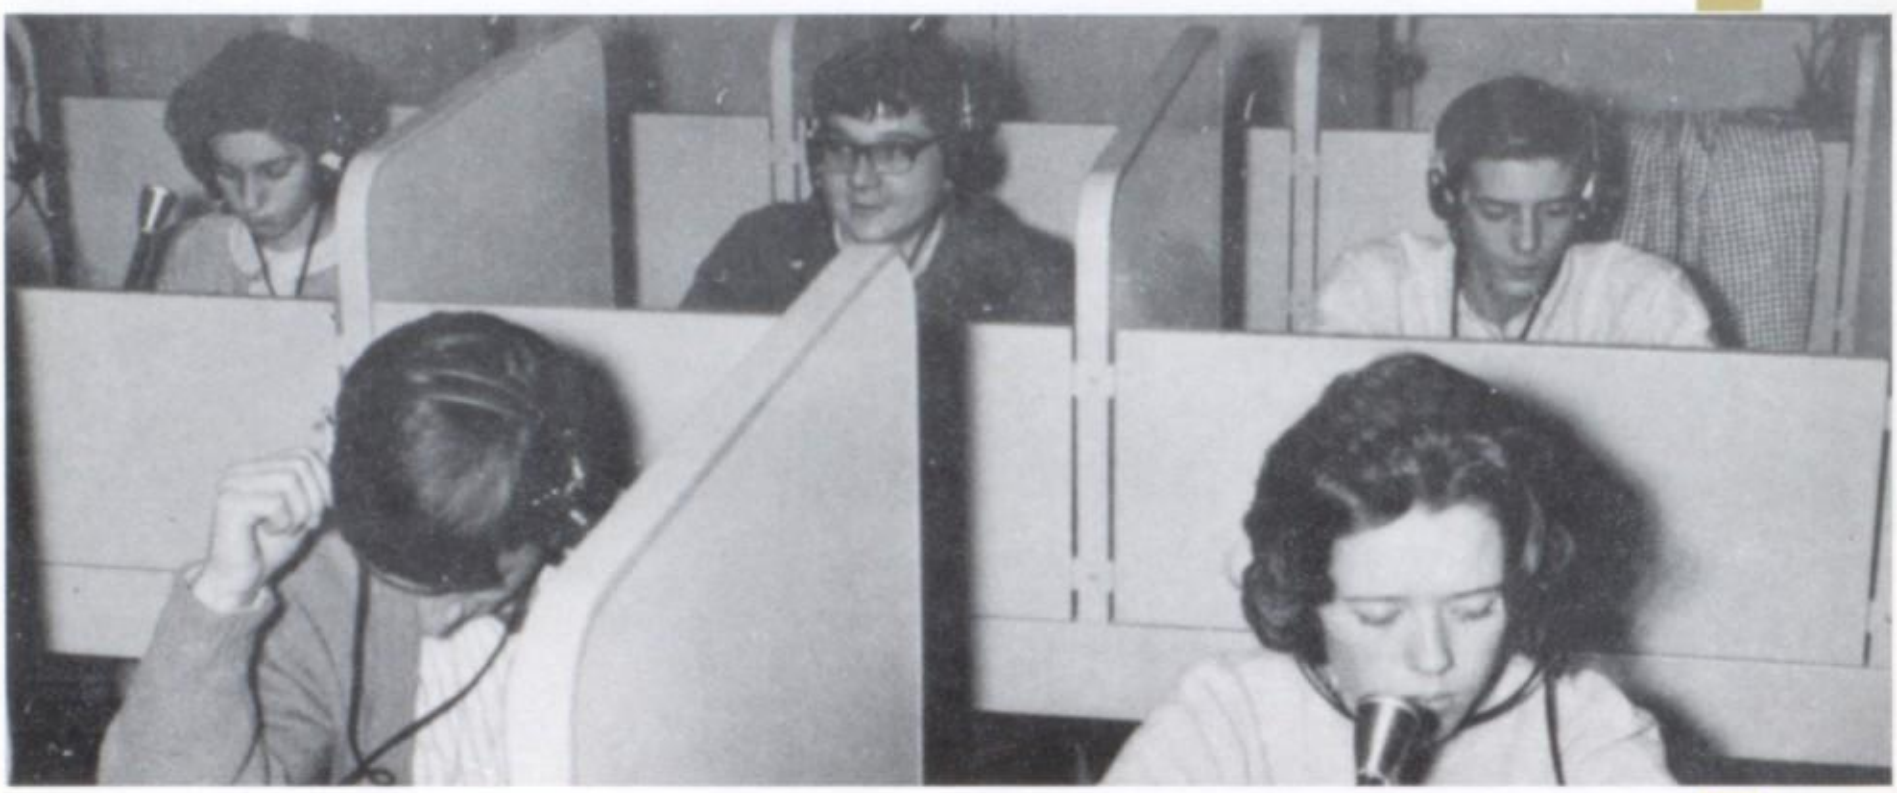
Spurring Students to a Search

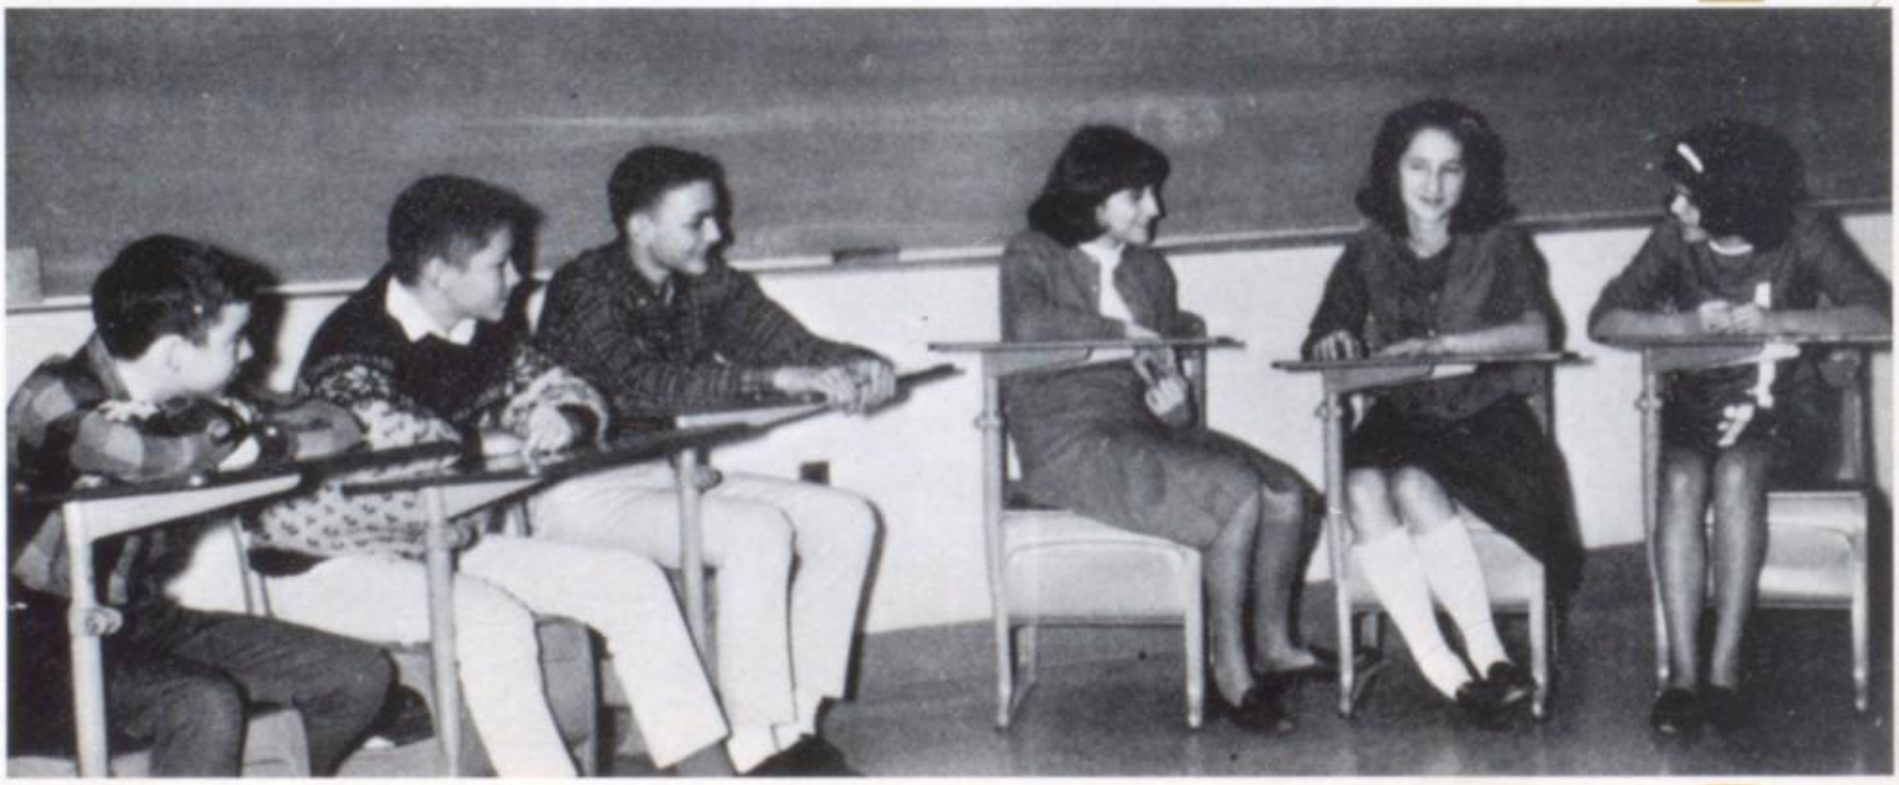
The past two years at Liberty have united several schools. Each of these had held its own traditions of academic standards which were brought to Liberty, fused with the academic standards of the other schools, and embellished by new academic methods to form a set of standards, Liberty's own.

It has been necessary for both teachers and students to put forth an extra effort in adjusting to new circumstances and demands. Often this has meant studying harder, or at times, taking a break from everyday pressures.



"IS THAT YOU, KAREN?" . . . Steve Williamson seems to be hearing voices over the tape that aren't speaking Spanish. Language students Michael Thompson, Karen Massie, Louise Burks, Steve Williamson, and Bob Graves are assisted in their Spanish pronunciation by use of the new language lab.

"TO BE RESOLVED: DID ABRAHAM LINCOLN REALLY WEAR LIFTS IN HIS BOOTS?" . . . Pat Garrett, Bobby Baker, and Johnny Carter on one team and Linda Raflo, Barbara Wilkes, and Martha Stevenson on the other debate a question in Mr. Carpenter's history class. Such activities help develop poise and the ability to think independently, qualities which will help these students in their future high school careers.



for Knowledge Through Learning

The Spirit is not difficult to find in the classroom. Academic, general, and vocational courses require from the student sincere interest and earnest work. They require from the teacher a devotion and dedication to education.

The Spirit has been evident in outstanding science fair projects and musical programs, and in the ever growing list of honor students.

A desire to teach, an eagerness to learn, and a willingness to work—all of these form the spirit of academics, the heart of school life at Liberty High School.

"I DIDN'T EVEN KNOW WE HAD TO KNOW THAT" . . . Pat Skelton, Warren Craig, Wayne Smith, Norris Bramlet, and David Higgins study hard in those last few minutes before a geography test.

"WHAT'S THAT ON THE BACK OF MY NECK?" . . . Irene Smith, Peggy Stanley, Van Phillips, Frank Bush, Charles Holland, and Mike Lacy try to get used to the mobiles hanging around them in geometry class.

Building Friendships That Add

"STRAWN, YOU'RE FLAT" . . . Charles Dooley gives Allen Strawn the evil eye during a tour of Christmas caroling. The senior chorus caroled through the halls to open the Christmas season.

"THESE SHOES ARE MADE FOR WALKING" . . . Frank Ruff and Cindy Nester examine all the shoes they have checked before a sock hop.

Liberty's social calendar contained something for everyone. The athletic games were one of the favorite events of the year, drawing crowds of students. Sock hops sponsored by the different school organizations were sometimes held after the games.

This year the one-act play was an experimental abstract, "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden." The cast utilized few props in their study of the characters. Another play, presented in the spring, was the senior's project. This full-length play was their major accomplishment of the year.

Dances were another favorite with the students. From sock hops to the Junior-Senior Prom, the work was excelled only by the fun and enjoyment.

State and national conventions held by some of the clubs provided the opportunity for an educational but fun-filled time for the delegates. Conventions of the Beta Club, F.B.L.A., and F.H.A. were familiar conversation topics throughout the year as students planned their trip.

The senior picnic and class night were special occasions that will long be remembered by the graduates.

Pleasure to School Life

LIBERTY'S HONOR STUDENTS . . . Looking into Mrs. Duis's gaily decorated homeroom at Christmas we see the final products of Santa's Workshop.

"I'VE BEEN EVICTED!" . . . Marcia White and Mary Keith Harvey leave on a Friday afternoon for a week-end of fun.

RUSH HOUR . . . These students take advantage of the break between classes to chat with friends.

Spurring the Teams to Victory

Liberty High School was an active participant in sports throughout the year. The teams demonstrated great skill and determination while the student body displayed the Spirit to support them. Each person who had a part in any sport did his best for his team, and the result was a record of which any school would be proud.

Athletics was not only a vital part of the school but one full of life and vigor. There was the thrill of a touchdown, the tension of a close game, or the joy of winning. Each person, whether playing or watching, soon felt the growing tide of Spirit spread over all present. After a game, each student felt his heart swell with pride to realize how well his team had played, regardless of whether they won or lost.

Athletics not only included the extra-curricular teams, but also the physical education classes. The classes may have groaned and sighed under the effort of sit-ups and the strain of push-ups, but the students all agreed that this course was of great benefit through development of physical fitness.

BOTTOMS UP! . . . Mrs. Coleman helps Linda Raflo master the art of standing on her head as a part of the tumbling instruction in phys. ed.

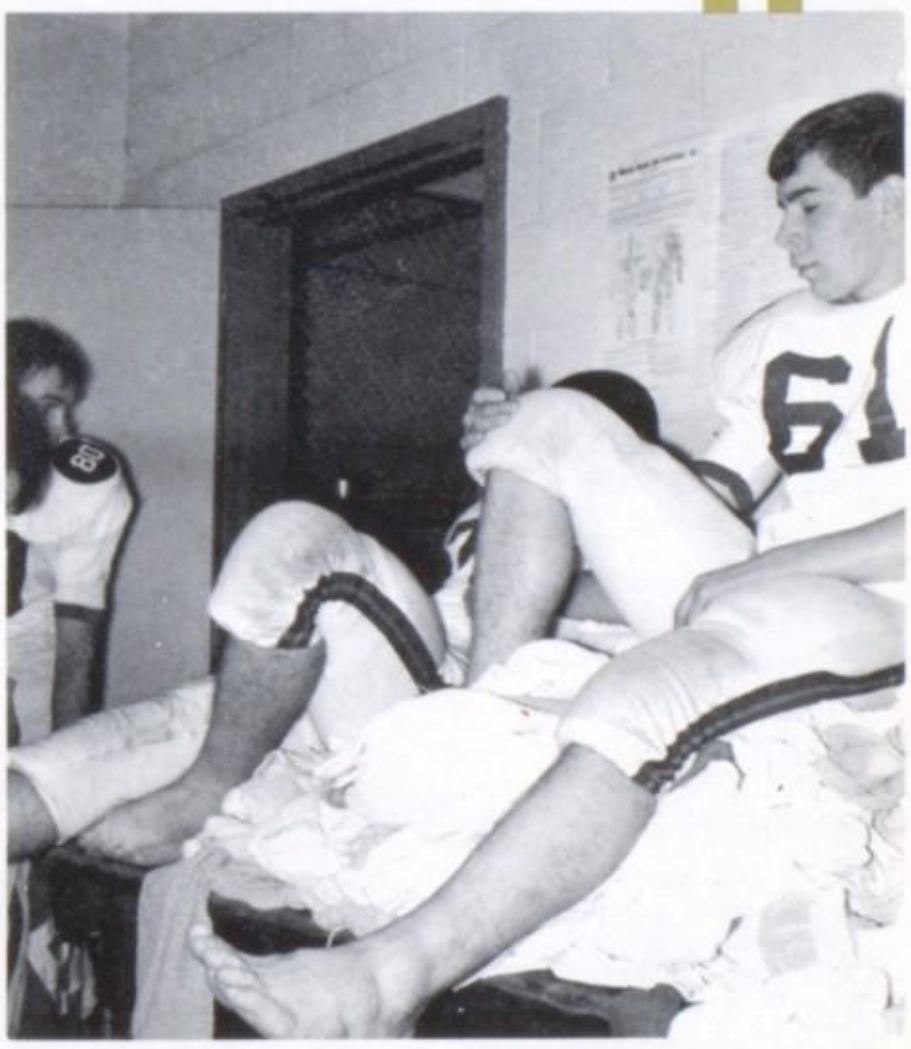
and Creating Pride Among Student Body

THROW ME ONE! . . . An eager crowd of Liberty fans stretch in an effort to catch the miniature footballs thrown by the varsity cheerleaders.

THERE'S HOPE FOR THEM . . . Laurie Dunford, Linda Rockecharlie, Kaye Kendall, Minerva Thomas, and Kathy Craig take a short break in the tedious ordeal of cheerleading practice.



WHERE THE BOYS ARE . . . Oscar Padgett, Jerry Giles, Van Daniels, and Watts Key prepare for another round during football halftime.

Ringing with Sounds of Youth

VICKIE, REMEMBER YOUR DIET . . . Vickie Johnson tries to restrain herself as Julie Stanley, Martha Yowell, and Ann Carter enjoy their lunches and the break from classes.

"ONE MORE BUMP LIKE THAT AND I'LL . . . " . . . Laura Beckman and Robin Dickler silently endure the long roads of Bedford County on their bus ride home from school.

AN ARCHITECT'S NIGHTMARE . . . Kay Lay, Jo Anne Leach, Patty Carter, Howie Fine, Charles Strode, and others shiver their way to lunch on the day after the first snow of the year.

As the days grew into weeks and the weeks into months, school became more than just a place of learning. Classes day after day with the same people brought close associations, and inevitably led to new friendships.

The clinking of locks and lockers, the bits of friendly chatter, the hardy chuckles of the gang, and the familiar faces and warm smiles of those all around typified the usual atmosphere which made the day-to-day activities of school enjoyable.

This year and the preceding one have offered excellent opportunities to make friends. Little things such as riding the bus to and from school each day, meeting classmates in the cafeteria at lunchtime, and changing classes were often a taken-for-granted part of school, but one without which the year would have been much less interesting.

Perhaps it will be these small everyday activities that will linger the longest with students who leave Liberty.

Throughout Each Day

HEAD 'EM UP MOVE 'EM OUT . . . Junior high students flock into the building for another day as the 8:45 bell rings.

"CAN'T YOU SEE I'M IN A HURRY?" . . . Sandra Martin and Virginia Tankersley go to their lockers for an exchange of books, an act repeated countless times each day by Liberty students.

GLORY HALLELUJAH, IT'S 3:07! . . . The familiar line of yellow buses makes its way slowly around the school, as car drivers sit patiently waiting to leave.

Promising a Lasting Heritage

The Spirit of Liberty High School imparts an air of anticipation to all who know it, for it holds a promise for the future.

There is an expectation of achievement on the part of those who will leave the halls of Liberty and go on to lead their individual lives. Each Liberty student has received a portion of the Spirit. He will carry its imprint for the rest of his life, and he will be different for having known it.

Students can look to the future with an assurance of excellence as Liberty High School grows and prospers in the years ahead. Each new class that enters Liberty will come into contact with the Spirit, and the standards of the entire school will be lifted from the contributions made under the influence of the Spirit.

The Spirit promises continuation. As long as there is Liberty High School there will be the Spirit, growing and changing, but always the Spirit of Liberty High School.

I'LL HUFF AND I'LL PUFF AND I'LL BLOW YOUR HOUSE DOWN . . . Brenda Russell hopefully prepares for the future as she designs a model home for a home economics class.

IS THAT SUPPOSED TO BE THE NUTCRACKER SUITE ? ? ? . . . Physical education class prepares these boys to become Minutemen.

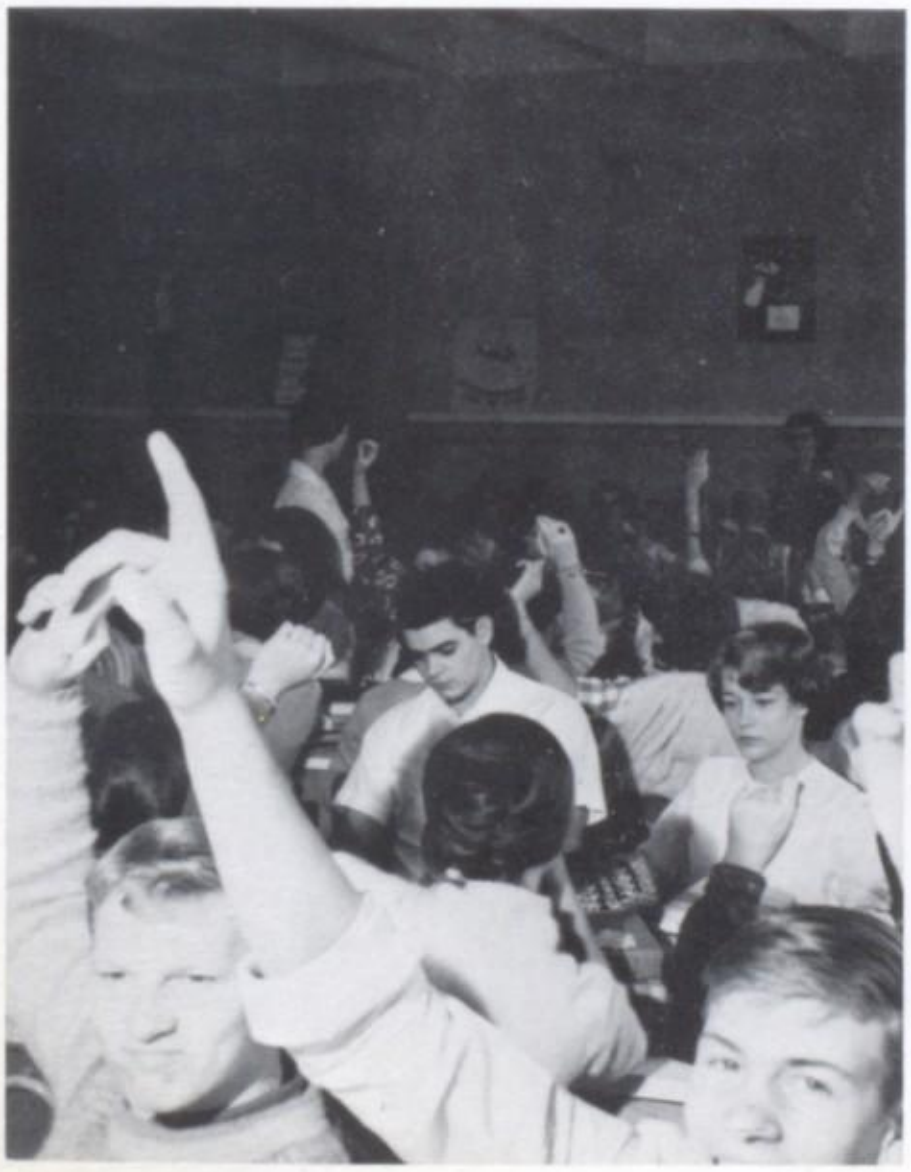
LIBERTY'S STALWART SENTINEL . . . Our Minuteman, as lasting as the Spirit itself, stands guard in the gymnasium.

and Giving Hope for Tomorrow

FUTURE MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC . . . Preparatory band members Connie Allen, Vickie Kennedy, Dorothy Napier, Brenda Otey, Barry Cocke, Mike Nichols, Perry Newman, Althea DeWitt, Debra Tolley, Andy Britts and George Sexton perform a practice number.

"OUR GROUP HAD 25% FEWER CAVITIES" . . . The senior class meets to vote on candidates for class officers to lead them throughout the year.

"LISTEN, MY CHILDREN." . . . Members of the S.C.A. listen to Mr. Kenneth Axtell explain the Red Cross Bloodmobile before its visit in October sponsored by the S.C.A.



IN APPRECIATION

We, the students of Liberty High School, wish to express our gratitude to our principal, Mr. William N. Lee, for all he has done for us and for Liberty.

A native of Lynchburg, Mr. Lee attended Lynchburg College where he received a Bachelor of Arts Degree. He obtained his Masters Degree in Education from the University of Virginia. He held teaching positions in Pittsylvania County and in Boonsboro and principalships of Moneta High School and Bedford High School. At the consolidation of four schools in northern Bedford County, Mr. Lee was selected principal of the new school, Liberty High School.

Mr. Lee has successfully established standards and procedures for Liberty, and in only two years has helped to make it a school of which we are very proud. Because of this, and because he has demonstrated his willingness to help each student with his understanding counsel and sound advice, we extend to Mr. William N. Lee, our principal, a sincere, "Thank you."

"I'LL NOW TURN THE PROGRAM OVER TO KEN WALDEN." . . . Another assembly is called to order as Mr. Lee calms the student body.

"HO, HO, HO," . . . Mr. Lee and Mr. Sherman receive their Christmas gifts from Santa Claus himself, Mr. Mathews.

"NOW HEAR THIS! NOW HEAR THIS!" Mr. Lee makes the morning announcements over the intercom.

Mr. Forrest L. Frazier became the new superintendent of schools in Bedford County in September of 1965. With the past experience of serving as principal of Culpepper County High School and Martinsville High School, and teaching at Cape Charles High School, he was able to fill the position well. His duties included decisions concerning all county schools and such things as recommending teachers to the school board for appointment.

The school board, led by its chairman, Mr. John R. Hyatt, with the help of Mr. Frazier was the policy-making body for all schools throughout Bedford County. It also was responsible for the business affairs of the school system and approved all appointments of school officials and teachers.

Mr. William N. Lee and Mr. Paul D. Sherman served as principal and assistant principal of Liberty High School. They worked together to guide Liberty through another school year.

Counselors Aid Students by Tests, Advice

The guidance department at Liberty was a vital part of school life. Miss Magann, head of the department, was in charge of administering College Boards at Liberty on December 4. She became a familiar sight in many of the English classes as she informed the students of such tests as the National Merit tests, National Education Development tests, and S.C.A.T. and S.T.E.P. tests.

Mr. Oglesby, who served as senior advisor, was kept busy writing recommendations for those students applying for college admissions and scholarships.

Mrs. Sherman, a new-comer to the guidance department this year, worked hard helping the eighth and ninth graders plan their schedules for their future years at Liberty.

College and Career Day, held in late September, gave the students an opportunity to learn about colleges or careers which interested them.

THE MEETING WILL COME TO ORDER . . . Miss Magann calls a staff meeting of Mrs. Sherman and Mr. Oglesby to discuss plans for College and Career Day.

The special emphasis this year in English was on creative writing. The English Department, under the direction of Mrs. Sarah Duis, urged students to develop their self-expression by entering the "I Speak for Democracy" and "The Virginia Wildlife" essay contests.

In addition to frequent assignments in the writing of themes, poems, and short stories, the individual classes devoted much time to the study of literature.

The eighth and ninth grades read many well-known short stories and excerpts from great books, such as The Courtship of Miles Standish and David Copperfield.

The sophomores enjoyed The Rime of the Ancient Mariner, Silas Marner, and Julius Caesar. They added to the study of Shakespeare by building a model of the famous Globe Theater.

American literature was the object of study for the juniors. In their reading, they traced the history of United States literature from Jamestown to the twentieth century.

Seniors became acquainted with the rich heritage of English literature through Shakespeare's Macbeth and the poems and selections of other masters such as Keats, Browning, and Burns.

The overall objective of the English department according to Mrs. Duis was "to eliminate unnecessary repetition of subject matter and to make each English course a rich experience for the student."

The foreign language department, headed by Miss Virginia Boan, placed emphasis on the speaking of each language. The Latin classes studied grammar, and the culture of ancient Rome. Translating the works of Caesar, Cicero, and Vergil gave them both reading practice and enjoyment. Outstanding Latin students had chances to test their proficiency in the Latin Tournament at Randolph-Macon Woman's College and the Virginia Latin Essay Contest.

The French classes also had an exciting year. Mr. Rayford Sowell instigated many new ideas, such as "interviews" in French with his students and a study of the history of language.

Mrs. Betty Arrington used such items as a Spanish newspaper, Las Nuevas de Santa Rosa, to drill her students on their Spanish. First year Spanish students concentrated on grammar; second-year students, conversation.

First Matharama in Bedford County

The math department, headed by Mrs. Margaret Arnold, presented for the first time a Matharama, a display of projects which gave the parents a better idea of what the math students are learning today.

Each class gave special emphasis to problem solving which helped to develop more logical thinking. Eighth and ninth grade math classes worked with advanced arithmetic. They also spent time on the metric system, graphs, percentage problems, the binary system, and other bases.

Business math students prepared for the future by learning to balance books, write checks and bills, and fill out income tax forms.

Algebra I students studied signed numbers, motion problems, and equation solving. Algebra II students furthered the study of Algebra I and worked with logarithms.

At Christmas the geometry students made mobiles and geometric solids for the Christmas tree.

The pride of the math department was advanced algebra, a course equivalent to a first semester math course in college.

Liberty High's science department was staffed by seven teachers. Approximately 950 of the student body were enrolled in some science class. New revised textbooks with an oriented approach were used. Eighth grade science was not a laboratory course—students were involved in a study of the "How's and What's" of general science, while ninth grade general science was a laboratory course introducing students to basic chemistry, biology, physics, and earth science. Biology and physics were laboratory courses taught in the senior high. One experimental biology class was taught to a primarily accelerated group.

All science classes participated in the annual Bedford County Science Fair which was held in March, in the Regional Science Fair, and had entries in the Virginia Junior Academy of Science, and Nature Scientists of America.

The Westinghouse Science Talent Search, Virginia Science Talent Search, Humanities Symposium, and National Aeronautical and Space Administration Contest were a few of the outstanding programs in which this department promoted participation.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Under the guidance of Miss Theresa Stoneman, the Social Studies Department spent much time on Communism. All the government classes, as well as other history classes, made special studies of the increasing threat to democracy.

Eighth grade classes made a thorough study of American history by drawing maps, doing research, working on projects, and learning to comprehend the Constitution.

Vigorous debates took place in the world history classes as they read about current events and saw interesting slides on news spots in the world such as Viet Nam.

Members of the American history classes presented some humorous, as well as informative skits on different phases of American life from the time of Christopher Columbus to that of John Glenn.

Local policemen and lawyers provided first-hand information in answer to the seniors' questions about county government.

In a joint effort, all the teachers in the department tried to arouse the interests of their students and to make them aware of their obligations and responsibilities as citizens of the United States.

Music classes in band, chorus, and music appreciation directed by Mr. John Hunter proved to be very popular among the student body. The chorus class spent its time practicing and perfecting music scores to be presented at assemblies, Christmas, and other concerts. The band acquired the skill of marching in addition to becoming a concert group. The major goals for the year for both the band and the chorus were All-State and District Festival.

Music appreciation class studied the history of music and the world's great composers and their contributions to music. By the playing of various types of musical selections in class, the students learned how to listen intelligently.

Mrs. Julia Overstreet, Liberty's art teacher, began the year by teaching her classes the fundamentals of color and design. As the year progressed, the students worked on more advanced projects such as mosaics, battoxes, plaster carvings, portrait sketches, tri-color designs, and wire sculptures.

In addition to their regular classwork, art students participated in the National Poster Contest in which Vicky Carson won first place in the local competition. In fact, many posters brightened the school throughout the whole year.

Art students not only learned how to draw and how to appreciate good art, but also used their artistic talents to benefit the school.

The business department of Liberty, headed by Mrs. Coreina Mishoe, offered for the first time this year a course in clerical office practice. Advanced business students in this class were taught to operate such office equipment as adding machines, calculators, dictaphones, duplicators, and typewriters.

Typing I students were taught the keyboard, parts of the typewriters, and correct typing and posture. These students spent time on methods and time writings with a special emphasis upon learning correct procedure for typing letters and term papers.

Typing II students started the year by thoroughly reviewing what they had learned in Typing I, progressing to correct procedures of typing carbons, stencils, and telegrams.

Shorthand students learned shorthand theory, and learned to take and transcribe dictation.

The bookkeeping classes were taught correct office procedures and fundamentals of bookkeeping and accounting, progressing to practical work or a practice set.

The physical education department, headed by Mrs. Shirley McCabe, introduced new sports such as gymnastics and field hockey in addition to the usual basketball. Modern dance for the girls and the use of the new equipment for gymnastics in the boys' classes added much to the enthusiasm of the students.

Classroom studies included health in the eighth and tenth grades, and first aid and driver's training in ninth grade.

The warm weather of spring brought forth the inevitable baseballs and bats with some of the boys practicing to master the hurdles and to develop the "go power" for the dashes on the track field.

The entire program of the physical education department is aimed toward the ideal of a healthy mind and a healthy body.

STAFF

A vital, but often taken-for-granted part of the life at Liberty was its hardworking staff. Two of the most important people on the staff were Mrs. Nichols and Miss Spradlin. They did an excellent job running the office smoothly.

Mrs. Wilson, the manager of the cafeteria, really rated with the L.H.S. students this year. She worked many long hours planning the school menus and supervising the cafeteria help. Not only did she prepare the food for the students every day, but she also served for numerous teachers' meetings and school banquets.

Mr. Elbert Christian, Mr. T. N. Crunkleton, Mr. Kester Smith, Thomas Wright, and Elsie Richards did a fine job keeping the halls and school grounds clean. They also assisted by bringing hot coffee from the kitchen to the stands at the football games.

"LET'S PLAY BANK" . . . Mrs. Nichols and Miss Spradlin count the day's receipts.

"SOMEBODY STOLE MY BROOM!" . . . Mr. Thomas Crunkleton, Mr. Kester Smith, and Mr. Elbert Christian relax in the cafeteria at the end of a day of working hard to keep our school clean.

Staff Workers Keep L.H.S. Running Smoothly

CLASSES

CLASSES

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1966

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS . . . Susie Agee, Historian; Eddie Craig, President; Ava McCarthy, Secretary; Virginia Pierce, Reporter; Donald Wingfield, Vice-president; and Brenda Hickman, Treasurer.

The senior class readily accepted the responsibilities of leadership at Liberty. Ken Walden led the entire student body as S.C.A. President, while many other seniors served as presidents of clubs or captains of varsity sports.

President Eddie Craig directed the class in its activities. The senior play, although it took time and effort, was a memorable event as the class worked together to present an enjoyable evening of entertainment.

The senior year was filled with final preparations for the completion of high school. Many seniors took college boards in December, and throughout the year, they hopefully awaited decisions concerning college acceptance. Announcements for graduation were sent to friends and relatives. The last few weeks of school were filled with graduation practices, the senior class picnic, class night, baccalaureate, and finally, graduation night itself.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS . . . Sue Craig, Reporter; Robert Lambeth, Vice-president; Joey Laughon, President; Tera Yoder, Secretary; and Roger Orange, Treasurer.

The junior class demonstrated its interest in the school through such projects a a beautification program, planned by the class president, Joey Laughon. The purpose of this program was to plant greatly needed shrubs and trees around the school grounds.

Keeping up with the "Go-Go" craze sweeping the nation, the juniors presented a discotheque as its money-making project for the year. Proceeds from this dance were used to finance the Junior-Senior Prom. The prom was the social climax of the year, and the juniors did all they could to make it a memorable evening.

Ordering class rings was a confused, exciting event for the juniors. The choice of stones was so large that it made a decision difficult. Everyone finally decided on his favorite and the orders were sent off. They arrived in the Spring, and each proud junior showed his ring to one and all.

As the year drew to a close, the juniors began to eagerly look forward to being seniors.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS . . . Carla Zimmerman, Treasurer; Jimmy Denton, Reporter; Charlotte Cook, Secretary; Frank Thomasson, President; and Julie Stanley, Vice-president.

As they moved up into the senior high building, the sophomores undertook a greater variety of responsibilities and activities. They were now able to participate in the events of the senior high. Tenth-grade boys were able to try out for the varsity teams. The girls were eligible to be varsity cheerleaders and seven made the squads.

At Christmas the tenth-grade class sponsored a contest for the decoration of their homerooms. Mrs. Sarah Duis's homeroom won first place with its duplication of Santa's Toy Shop. Mrs. Trudy Thaxton's homeroom placed second, while Mrs. Evelyn Lewis's room rated third in the contest.

The sophomore sponsors were fortunate to have such a hard-working class to direct. Their sponsors supervised the class's activities throughout the year and were always on hand to offer help and suggestions.

Led by President Jimmy Trevey, the members of the freshman class were able to participate in more extra-curricular activities at Liberty this year. They were at last eligible to join any of the regular clubs, in which they quickly began to take active parts.

Twenty-three girls were chosen to serve as the junior varsity cheerleaders. Twelve were to cheer for the junior varsity football team while the other eleven were basketball cheerleaders. All freshman boys were eligible to try out for the junior varsity teams of football and basketball, while two, Mike Coleman and Wayne Bailey, made the varsity squads.

As the courses of high school became more difficult for the ninth graders, they met each new challenge with a spirit of determination to succeed.

THE EIGHTH GRADE

EIGHTH GRADE OFFICERS . . . Susan Putney, Secretary-Treasurer; Gregg Bailey, President; and Sue Craghead, Vice-president.

The students in the eighth grade came to Liberty from various elementary schools in northern Bedford County. They began the year by holding class meetings to organize the class. Gregg Bailey was elected to lead his classmates in adjusting to high school life.

Special football and basketball teams were opened to eighth-grade boys. The members of these teams were introduced to the rules and procedures of high school sports.

Mrs. Margaret Sherman held individual conferences with the eighth-grade students throughout the year and acquainted them with the curriculum and courses offered at Liberty.

Through such activities as decorating the bulletin board in the cafeteria lobby, these students plunged into school life and quickly made a place for themselves at Liberty.

Bradley, S. Gill, D. Wingfield, G. Strode, E. Craig, O. Padgett, J. McGhee, F. Thomasson, E. Holdren.

The backbone of the student body at Liberty High School was the Student Cooperative Association. It considered student recommendations and put them into effect upon approval by Mr. Lee, if the suggestions were felt to benefit the entire school. Kennon Waldon, SCA president, led the students in co-ordinating activities of school life.

Every student had a voice in the school government through the SCA representatives. Each homeroom elected one student to serve on the council. Club and class presidents represented the interest of their individual groups in the SCA. These representatives informed the students of events and decisions of the student council. They also were instrumental in collection of money for such projects as the United Fund Drive.

ANOTHER MOTION TO IMPEACH KEN! . . . A group of ninth grade SCA members listen intently during a meeting.

SSHH! THESE ARE COUNTERFEIT LIBRARY PERMITS . . . SCA members from area schools register with Frank Thomasson and Charles Holland at district workshop held at Liberty.

The SCA-narama was a public newsletter to the students and faculty of Liberty. Rosemary Arney, Reporter of the SCA, helped gather the information for the activities and announcements in each weekly edition. The week's menu was also printed in the SCA-narama.

The SCA sponsored the Bedford County Bloodmobile visit held at the armory in October. Mr. Kenneth Axtell and Mr. E. Y. Lovelace, Jr. of Bedford were the chairmen for this project. To solicit donors, Donnie Grant, SCA Vice-president, and Charles Holland asked individuals to participate in the telephone campaign.

Donnie Grant planned sock hops after several of the football and basketball games. He had Don Hudson from WBLT radio play records for the dance.

In November, the district SCA workshop was held at Liberty. Students from various schools throughout the district attended to learn more about the function of an SCA. In addition to this, the SCA at Liberty held its own workshop. Mrs. Gertrude Thaxton spoke to the group about problems of an SCA. She also gave hints for constructive projects.

The Beta Club is a national honor society which promotes honesty, service, achievement, and leadership. All juniors and seniors at Liberty with a grade average of ninety or above and qualities of leadership and good character fitting the requirements of the National Beta Club are eligible to join.

On November 1, the Beta Club sponsored the group that competed on Klassroom Kwiz. Marjorie Scott, Gary Raflo, and Kennon Walden composed the panel representing Liberty.

Mrs. Catherine Gordon, club sponsor, helped members of the club sell refreshments at all of the home football games. The money made from operating this concession stand was used for service projects of the Beta Club.

Ten delegates chosen by the club and Mrs. Gordon represented Liberty's Beta Club at the State Beta Club Convention at Hotel Roanoke on March 18 and 19.

WHERE IS THE CAKE? . . . Ronnie Fainter receives his certificate of membership from Jimmy McDaniel, as Mary Lawhorn assists.

The tapping ceremony for the invitation of new members into the Beta Club was held on January 7. Jimmy Whorley, Morris Cofer, Marjorie Scott, Jimmy McDaniel, Gayle Robertson, Penny Turpin, and Donald Wingfield presented a skit to introduce the Beta Club. After the old Beta members tapped the prospective members, these forty-five students were issued formal invitations by Jimmy McDaniel, club President, Donald Wingfield, Vice-President, and Mary Lawhorn, Secretary.

During a special called meeting on February 18, the Beta Club held a candlelight induction service. The Rev. Gerald Annand spoke to the club about "Leadership, Character, and Achievement." After they had taken the pledge to uphold the standards of the Beta Club, the officers presented each new member with his membership card, Beta pin, and certificate.

WHERE ARE THE MISSING PARTS? . . . Jimmy Whorley and Marjorie Scott perform a skit telling about Beta Club standards at an assembly.

Senior Hi-Y Provides District President

The Senior Hi-Y Club, sponsored by Mr. Bobby Saylor, is a Christian service organization affiliated with the young Men's Christian Association. One of the biggest events of the club was the Hi-Y District Meeting in which all Hi-Y clubs in the Central District participated on November 6 at Liberty High School. Allen Wills, chosen from the Senior Hi-Y to serve as District President, presided over the meeting and acted as official representative for the district.

HI-Y PRESIDENTS . . . Allen Wills, District Hi-Y President; Dianne Tomlin, President of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y; and Linda Aultice, President of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y; act as welcoming committee of the District Meeting.

The members of the club heard guest speakers at several meetings. At the November meeting Mr. Don Meredith spoke on hunting and gun safety.

Joe Heller headed the planning committee for the preparations for a sock hop the club sponsored after the basketball game on January 8.

As one of the final projects, the club sent a representative to the Model General Assembly which was held in Richmond during March.

Junior Hi-Y Upholds Christian Principles

The Junior Hi-Y issued invitations to all freshman and sophomore boys. It strived to uphold the club platform—Clean Speech, Clean Sportsmanship, Clean Scholarship, and Clean Living—through Christian Activities.

The Rev. Charles Camden spoke to the Junior Hi-Y in its joint meeting with the Senior Tri-Hi-Y and Junior Tri-Hi-Y on October 7. On November 6, the club participated in the District Hi-Y Conference held at Liberty High School.

The Junior Hi-Y helped with a new year's party at the January club meeting. Mr. William Carpenter, sponsor of the club, showed movies on the prevention of juvenile delinquency and the harmful effects of alcohol. A rock-and-roll band furnished music during refreshments.

Mike Jones, Brian Craig, Gary Mitchell and Charles Undercofer matched wits with students from William Byrd in a debate during one club meeting.

The final event of the year was a hike up the Peaks of Otter in May.

Senior Tri-Hi-Y Strives for Ace Rating

Tri-Hi-Y is a service club, sponsored by the Y. W.C.A. and dedicated to the fulfillment of its objective, to "Create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school, and community." The goal for the year of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y Club was to uphold the standard set by last year's Tri-Hi-Y and become an ace club for the second year.

Gamma Mu Epsilon, the Senior Tri-Hi-Y, along with the Junior Tri-Hi-Y, Senior Hi-Y, and Junior Hi-Y were hosts to the District Conference at Liberty High School on November 6. Part of the business of the meeting was the election of Model General Assembly officers. Diana Coleman, historian of Gamma Mu Epsilon, ran for the office of assistant bill keeper for the House.

Mr. Hugh Bond, Mrs. Ella Noell, and the Rev. Charles Camden served as an adult sponsoring committee for the Senior Tri-Hi-Y.

The Model General Assembly was held in Richmond in April. The members of Gamma Mu Epsilon chose one member to represent them there.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y was composed of ninth- and tenth-grade girls. These girls, led by President Dianne Tomlin and Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, Sponsor, were introduced to Hi-Y work of Christian service.

Brenda Rhodes, Vice-President of the club, helped a committee plan and set up a display in the library on the meaning of Thanksgiving. At the Hi-Y District Conference on November 6, Pam Chilton and Margaret Hughes were among those who helped serve refreshments. At the December meeting Mr. Kenneth Arnold read a Christmas story which informed the girls how Christmas is celebrated in Wales. The week before Christmas, Darnell Turpin, club secretary, was in charge of a Christmas bulletin board in the gymnasium.

Dianne Tomlin served as President of the inter-club council. This council was composed of representatives from each of the four Hi-Y clubs and planned joint activities for the year.

As one of the main events of the year, the Junior Tri-Hi-Y sponsored a dance on January 8 to raise funds for the medal given to an outstanding basketball player at the awards assembly.

Heritage Staff Works Hard for Improvement

OH, IS IT THAT BAD? . . . Marjorie Scott and Tricia Mantiply, Editors - in - Chief, Mrs. Sigmon, Sponsor, and Penny Turpin and Nancy Carroll, Assistant Editors, gather at a familiar spot, Mrs. Sigmon's desk, to discuss plans for the next shipment.

The annual staff worked hard to make The Heritage the best possible. With the aid of Sylvia Kendall, Business Manager, and Gayle Robertson, Ads Editor, members of the staff sold ads throughout Bedford County, Roanoke, and Lynchburg during the summer and fall of 1965.

Under the co-ordinating leadership of Marjorie Scott and Tricia Mantiply, Co-Editors, and Mrs. Lula Sigmon, Sponsor, the workers of each section toiled to get their pages ready for the shipments. They struggled through drawing layouts, writing copy, captions, and theme, and cropping pictures to make the deadlines. All this required much work; but, although the work was often hectic, it was fun and rewarding.

Jane Dudek, Bonnie Brewbaker, Marjorie Scott, and Mrs. Sigmon went to Charlotte, North Carolina on January 7 and 8 to tour Delmar, the publisher of The Heritage. Three members of the staff accompanied by Mrs. Sigmon represented Liberty's annual of the preceding year at S.I.P.A. in Lexington in April.

As the end of the year drew closer, the staff members received some of the pages from the publisher. They were thrilled to actually see their work and efforts in print. The climax came when the copies of the 1966 Heritage finally arrived in June.

The Sentinel

VOL. II NO. 8 LIBERTY HIGH SCHOOL, MAY, 1966 15c PER COPY

WAIT A MINUTE! . . . Mr. Keith Harvey, publisher of the Bedford Bulletin-Democrat, helps Jennie Nance, News Editor, Ava McCarthy, Editor-in-Chief, and Campbell Johnson, Make-up Editor, prepare the first edition of the Sentinel.

This year the members of The Sentinel staff worked hard to expand the newspaper. The size of The Sentinel doubled from four to eight pages. Robert Lambert, Business Manager, solicited ads from businesses in the area to help finance the new additions.

Members of the staff attended various clinics to learn ways to improve the newspaper. Ava McCarthy, Editor-in-Chief, Campbell Johnson, Curtis Vaughn, Robert Lambeth, and Willie Douglas attended a workshop at Richmond Professional Institute, August 22-27. On November 13, Jennie Nance, News Editor, Cindy Nester, Curtis Vaughn, Robert Lambeth, and Miss Witt went to a newspaper conference at the University of Richmond.

Special features were used in the newspaper. The senior class elected outstanding seniors of the month. A description and picture of one boy and one girl was published in The Sentinel each issue. In the November edition a picture page about Liberty's first Homecoming was used.

Two representatives attended S.I.P.A. at Washington and Lee University in April. This was the conference where the paper of the preceding year was judged and given a rating.

HOLD IT STILL . . . Joey Laughon, Feature Editor, and Robert Lambeth, Business Manager, help Dianna Coleman, Editorial Editor, type copy.

IT'S TUESDAY AGAIN . . . These busy staff members, L. Booth, J. Ferguson, C. Nester, E. Parker, C. Bolling, C. Holland, C. Vaughn, J. Holdren, S. Luck, C. Ragland, P. Stanley, and W. Douglas meet with Miss Witt, their sponsor.

MORE AUTOGRAPHS? . . . Penny Turpin, President; Mrs. Hamm, Sponsor; Ava McCarthy, Vice-President; and Barbara Rucker, Secretary, discuss the program of work.

Quill and Scroll Is New LHS Honor Chapter

For the first time in Bedford County, Liberty this year organized a chapter of the Quill and Scroll Club. This club is a national journalistic, honorary society. To belong to this club, a student must have a scholastic average of 90 or above, must be a junior or senior, and must work on a school publication. Sue Luck and Mrs. Ollie Hamm, Sponsor, made invitations and issued them to all those students eligible.

Since the club was a special club, the first called meetings were organizational. Penny Turpin was elected president and then appointed committees. Virginia Pierce led the constitution committee; Glenna Grove, the initiation committee; and Jane Dudek, the activities committee.

At an assembly on March 18, the members were initiated into the Quill and Scroll Club. Penny Turpin presented Mr. Lee with the club charter for the school.

QUILL AND SCROLL MEMBERS . . . Front Row: Mrs. Hamm, J. Nance, D. Coleman, A. McCarthy, P. Turpin, B. Rucker, M. Scott, P. Mantiply. Second Row: G. Strode, E. Gallagher, J. Martin, C. Library Club Reviews New Books

The Library Club encouraged interest in the use of the library and knowledge of its resources. It sponsored a book cart which helped library assistants replace books on the proper shelves. These assistants were very helpful to the club sponsor, Miss Virginia Ruff, librarian.

The programs of some of the meetings included book reviews. President Donna Hylton gave a review of The Making of the President by T. J. White at the November meeting. Mrs. Ruth Rightmire from the Bedford Public Library discussed the different aspects of being a librarian in February.

Wanda Philips, Linda Yates, and Helen Harper helped at the bake sale the club sponsored to purchase articles to be used in the library.

In April the Library Club participated in National Book Week. Mike Long and Amber Burch fixed a bulletin board in the library; Marie Fulcher and Minerva Thomas helped prepare a tea for the teachers.

AMBER, LOOK AT THE BOOK! . . . Amber Burch, Secretary; Marie Fulcher, Treasurer; Donna Hylton, President; Diane Waugh, Chaplain; Linda Yates, Reporter; and Wanda Phillips, Vice-President; review a new book.

Forensic Club Prepares for Meet

O.K., HAND IT OVER . . . Kay Lay, Secretary-Treasurer, collects club dues from Ken Walden.

President Billie Sue Morgan led the Forensic Club in its aim to promote interest in the Blue Ridge District Forensic Meet in March. Members worked to get entries for each of the three divisions. Ken Walden and Cindy Nester, first place winners in the district last year, entered the contest again, Ken, in public speaking, and Cindy, in prose reading. Dana Carden, Vice-President, competed in the poetry-reading division.

Another project of the club was to encourage interest in good reading habits among eighth-graders. Several of them were invited to the meetings in the fall to read various selections of prose and poetry. The club members then attempted to analyze and give helpful hints for improvement.

In order to provide a record of the year's activities, members continued the Forensic Club scrapbook begun last year.

Dramatics Club Learns Stage Productions

DRAMATICS CLUB . . . Front Row: B. Thomas, N. Lee, B. Sanderson, R. Noland, L. Rockecharlie, S. Markham, F. Hughes, G. Dickerson, P. Overstreet. Second Row: K. Witt, B. Gross, M. Napier, K. WHERE'S BILL SHAKESPEARE? . . . These ambitious young ladies, Dianne Hylton, Reporter; Linda Noell, Vice-President; Jane Overstreet, Treasurer; Bonnie Brewbaker, President; and Barbara Murtchenson, Secretary; are the officers of the Dramatics Club.

THROUGH EATING ALREADY? . . . Cindy Nester, Patricia Overstreet, Kay Witt, Ramona Hopkins, and Donna Dillon learn about stage production while practicing a skit.

Under the capable leadership of President Bonnie Brewbaker, the Dramatics Club strived to learn more about the theater. Members helped with getting props, applying make-up and fixing lighting for the production of "On Christmas Eve," a play given by the music appreciation class. Also, with the aid of Miss Theresa Stoneman, the club participated in the staging of the senior play.

At different meetings during the year speakers talked to the Dramatics Club. Dr. William Morehouse, head of the Speech Department at Radford College, said, "A good play should have something to say and say it well." He talked to the club at the November meeting about his own acting experience and gave suggestions to individual members. In March, Mr. Dean Goodsell from the drama department at Hollins College spoke about correct movements on stage and the importance of prompters.

One of the most outstanding examples of the year's work of the Dramatics Club was the one-act play given in Roanoke in April at the One-Act Play Festival.

Latin Club Goes Roman for Slave Day

Slave Day, held on October 7, was one of the biggest events of the year at Liberty High School. Not only Latin students, but everyone else in the school enjoyed the antics of those freshmen serving as slaves to the second, third, and fourth year students.

Augur Gary Raflo began the annual Roman banquet by announcing that the gods were pleased with "Pluto's Party," the theme of the banquet. Penny Turpin, consul, presided over the activities. Excitement followed when Andy Davenport and Opie Lindsay engaged in a blood-thirsty sword fight. Consul, Gayle Robertson, climaxed the night when she presented certificates of freedom to the slaves.

French Club Enjoys French Films, Parties

This year the French Club entertained its members with many lively activities. The programs were planned by Mr. Rayford Sowell, sponsor, with the aid of Virginia Pierce, the club president, and other interested members.

Sylvia Kendall played the part of fashion commentator at the first meeting. She hilariously described the latest styles modeled by some of Paris's more prominent fashion figures such as Mademoiselle Du Bois, none other than Richard Coleman.

A native of France, 16-year-old Marc Legenne entertained the club at another meeting by singing French folk songs. Linda Aultice, Delores Reynolds, and Sylvia Kendall also enlivened the meeting by singing "Au Claire De La Lune."

The club enjoyed several movies of the Alliance Francaise at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg. Orphee and Journal d'un Cure de Campagne were among those shown. At Christmas the club attended a party given by the Alliance.

French Day was held in early spring. Liberty took on a Parisian air as students donned berets and black tights. A banquet that night climaxed the day.

Spanish Club Takes LHS to Spain for Day

Liberty gained a Spanish touch on Spanish Day, April 1. All Spanish students wore Spanish costumes during the day and at the banquet that night. Mrs. Betty Arrington, sponsor of the club, hung a pinata filled with candy in her room to add to the effect. At the banquet, the students enjoyed a program entirely in Spanish and a variety of Spanish food for the dinner. Judy Ryder, secretary-treasurer of the club, was in charge of posters throughout the school depicting Spanish life.

The program of the meeting on October 7 was a skit of "Goldilocks" presented in Spanish. Morris Coffer, president of the club, Ava McCarthy, and John Gilmer portrayed the three bears. Tricia Mantiply, chaplain of the club, played "Goldilocks" and Ronnie Cox served as the narrator.

Mrs. Crank, the head of the Spanish Department at Lynchburg College, showed slides of Spain and Portugal at a club meeting.

The Spanish Club went Christmas caroling in December and sang all the carols in Spanish.

After the close of school on June 6, the Spanish Club had a swim party and cookout at the Bedford Lake.

CARAMBA! . . . The Spanish Club officers are Morris Cofer, President; Ronnie Cox, Vice-President; Patricia Mantiply, Chaplain; Judy Ryder, Secretary; Wanda Phillips, Reporter.

"GOLDILOCKS EN ESPANOL" . . . Morris Cofer, Ava McCarthy, Johnny Gilmer, and Patricia Mantiply perform "Goldilocks" in Spanish during a Spanish Club meeting.

Art Club Displays Talent Around School

ART CLUB . . . Front Row: D. Wright, R. Byers, M. Hughes, J. Carder, C. Ragland. Second Row: J. Foster, D. Creasy, C. Wood, J. Turpin, C. Clement, P. Long, R. Miles. Third Row: J. Roberts, M. Bryant, J. Eubank, O. Lindsay, S. Banta, B. Deel, J. Golf, R. Ramsey, A. Lee.

"NO, THAT'S HIS HAND YOU'RE STAPLING" . . . Mrs. Overstreet helps the officers, Van Daniels, Vice-President; Junior Blankenship, President; Judy Ryder, Treasurer; and Eddie Daniels, Secretary; decorate for Christmas.

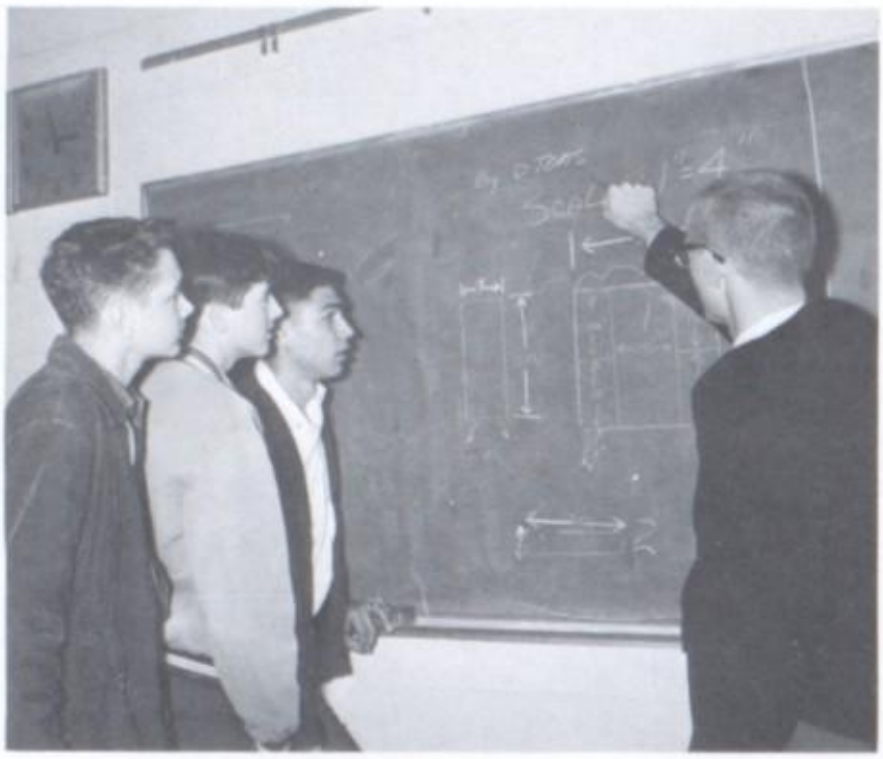
Expression of artistic talent throughout Liberty High was the purpose of the Art Club. With the help of Mrs. Julia Overstreet, club sponsor, members prepared exhibits and displays of art through the entire year. In September Chuck Clement, Rita Byers, and Cathy Ragland were among the students who displayed works of pottery in the library. Paintings of oil and pencil sketches were exhibited in the lobby between the blue and red cafeterias during the year.

The Art Club did its part in adding a festive touch to Liberty during the Christmas season. Jane Carter and Margaret Hughes headed the project of making decorations for the S.C.A., while Parkie Long and Chester Roberts made a large wreath and decorated the auditorium for the Christmas assembly.

Together with the entire art department, the Art Club entered the sidewalk art exhibit in the spring. This exhibit was sponsored by the Jaycettes of Bedford and was held for all of Bedford County.

Other clubs at Liberty found the Art Club invaluable as they called upon the "artists" to provide special decorations or scenery for various club projects.

Arts and Crafts Learns Book Binding



"ARE YOU SURE?" . . . Jerry Roberts, Harold Roberts, and Eugene Mross question Mr. Douglas about a scale drawing presented during a meeting.

THE CRAFTY ONES! . . . The officers of the Arts and Crafts Club are Bob Deel, Treasurer; Robert Ashwell, President; Jimmy Witt, Chaplain; Danny Toms, Vice-President; Edward Hopkins, Secretary; and Jimmy Lindsey, Reporter.

The Arts and Crafts Club served as an extension of the industrial arts department by branching out into areas not included in the regular curriculum, such as book binding and working with tin foil. Mr. Phillip Douglas, Arts and Crafts Club sponsor, directed the members in making plaster-of-paris plaques with the use of tin foil.

At Christmas the boys, led by President Robert Ashwell, made metal candle holders and sold them throughout Bedford as an individual money-making project.

In other projects the Arts and Crafts Club members drew scale drawings of cabinets and tables before they constructed them, and explained them to each other.

At the January meeting the members built a large silk screen that they used for lithograph printing at later meetings.

In the spring the club devoted most of its time to making tie racks of walnut, which they gave to all the men teachers at Liberty.

WHAT'S ALL THIS? . . . The members of the Arts and Crafts Club are Mr. Douglas, Sponsor, J. Roberts, D. Toms, C. Walker, C. Wood, E. Hopkins, J. Lindsey and B. Deel.

WOW! LOOK AT THAT SHEEN! . . . Ed Hopkins, Jerry Roberts, Randy Smith, Danny Toms, Robert Ashwell, and Charles Wood admire a project of one of the members of the Arts and Crafts Club.

Alpha Gamma Theta Studies New Math

MATH CLUB . . . Front Row: M. Reynolds, W. Phillips, J. Leftwich, C. Zimmerman, B. Russell, C. Creasy. Second Row: B. Mitchell, J. Harris, F. Nance, T. Childress, G. Faribault, G. Under the leadership of President Oscar Padgett, Alpha Gamma Theta, the Mathematics Club, was affiliated with the Virginia Junior Academy of Science.

Mr. Howell Gruver, supervisor of mathematics for the State Department of Education, explained sets and kinds of numbers at the regular monthly meeting on October 20. On November 19, Professor Hugh G. Campbell from the department of mathematics at V.P.I. lectured to the math students on linear programing and structures.

Mrs. Katherine Turner, Sponsor, and the club members visited the Nuclear Engineering Day Program at the University of Virginia in May.

Bruce Mitchell, Jane Ferguson, and Gail Rider served as club co-chairmen for the "mathorama." This was held on November 23, and provided opportunities for students to display and explain mathematical concepts. In closing, Mrs. Turner gave an excellent speech on the "Features of the New Math."

At the end of the school year, some of the members visited the "mathorama" in Roanoke.

WHAT'RE THE BLOCKS FOR? . . . Gail Rider, Secretary; Oscar Padgett, President; Jonathan Napier, Vice-President; Jane Ferguson, Reporter; Elizabeth Berry, Chaplain; and Gary Raflo, Treasurer; are the Math Club officers.

2-1—LIFTOFF! . . . Brenda Russell, James Abbott, and John McGhee work with the applications of mathematical principles.

Science Club Sponsors Science Fair

The S.O.S. Science Club climaxed its activities by sponsoring the Bedford County Science Fair held at Liberty High School in March. Mrs. Gertrude Thaxton, sponsor of the club, was in charge.

Robert Lambeth, Joe Laughon and Sam Hardy represented Liberty at the Humanities and Engineering Symposium at the University of Virginia on November 14-16.

Dr. Paul Osborne of the Biology department of Lynchburg College, was the visiting scientist at Liberty sponsored by the Science Club.

A special project of the Science Club was a monthly newsletter published by Philip Beckman. The paper gave details about coming events, projects and current activities of each month.

The Science Club benefited throughout the year through its affiliation with the Virginia Junior Academy of Science.

SCIENCE BRAINS ... The SOS Science Club officers are Wanda Martin, Secretary; Frank Thomasson, Scrap Book Chairman; Lawton Saunders, Vice-President; Martin Browning, Chaplain; Phillip Beckman, Reporter; Campbell Johnson, Treasurer; and George Strode, President.

SPEED UP, CHESTER! ... Charles Holland, Joanne Leach, Chester Roberts, Kay Lay, Campbell Johnson, and Mrs. Thaxton, sponsor, work on the Science Club float, "A Holiday Filled with Fun," for the Christmas Parade.

THE JETS MEMBERS . . . Front Row: T. Phillips, B. Mitchell, K. Chappelle, M. Hickson, F. Thompson. Second Row: J. Perrow, P. Beckman, R. Lambeth, G. Faribault, J. McDaniel, and R. Johnson.

Engineering Jets Enter Science Fair

Mr. Morris W. Jones, associate professor of electrical engineering at the University of Virginia served as a counselor for the Jets, a new club this year. It was affiliated with the science department at Liberty and concentrated on the engineering phase of science with applications and implications in their science fair profects.

The members of the club gained ideas from guest speakers about particular fields of engineering. Mr. Clyde Mitchell, consultant engineer at Rubatex, spoke about mechanical engineering at the November meeting. In December, Mr. Bill Davidson, engineer for the highway department, talked about civil engineering and its possibilities.

At the end of the school year the members having outstanding projects were invited to a "Showdown" in New York for four days with all expenses paid.

"AND SO IN CONCLUSION, MY FRIENDS" . . . Mr. Bill Davidson of the State Department of Highways speaks to the Jets on civil engineering during their December meeting.

"DON'T YOU UNDERSTAND, MR. THAXTON?" . . . Jimmy McDaniel explains his science fair project to Mr. Thaxton.

FHA MEMBERS, Front Row: R. Smith, C. Arthur, M. Collier, P. Sereno, B. Harris, D. Wilkes, K. Robertson, V. Carter, D. Holdren, C. Long, M. Ruff, I. Smith, P. Powell, S. Chandler, P. F.H.A. Hosts Fall Federation Meeting, Observes F.H.A. Week with Banquet

Future Homemakers of America was one of the largest clubs at Liberty High School, with about one hundred members. Mrs. Eleanor Whorley and Mrs. Nancy Mayhew, home economics teachers, sponsored the club for all girls interested in homemaking.

At the October meeting, Mrs. Mishoe, Miss Owen, Mr. Black, Mr. Worrell, Delores Reynolds, Donald Wingfield, Patsy Tolley, and Donnie Grant composed a panel and discussed "Morals and Manners (Is this Behavior Acceptable for Teenagers?)."

Ken Walden, President of the Student Cooperative Association, gave his own opinions on "Morals and Manners of Teenagers" at the club meeting in November.

As recreation leader, Tera Yoder planned and took charge of a Christmas party at the December meeting.

In February the club studied foods. Mrs. Patricia Martin of the National Dairy Council talked on nutrition for teenagers.

Betsy Tobias, fashion coordinator at Heironimus in Roanoke, demonstrated the proper way of walking, standing, and sitting. She stressed good posture and its advantages at the meeting in March.

WHAT IS T-H-E? . . . Maria Craghead, seated, President of the Liberty FHA Chapter, gives a briefing on planning chapter meetings to other officers, Susie Agee, Secretary; Kandy Reynolds, Historian; Judy Wilkerson, Reporter; Mary DeWitt, Vice-President; Tera Yoder, Recreational Leader; and Judy Kendrick, Treasurer.

WHATCHA LOOKING FOR? . . . Patsy Tolley, Parliamentarian; Julie Stanley, Treasurer; Mary E. Tomlinson, Vice-President; and Glenna Grove, President; Bedford County Federation officers from Liberty, look for program ideas.

The Liberty Chapter of FHA participated in the federation meetings in the fall and spring. Glenna Grove, from Liberty, served as President of the federation. At the fall federation meeting, Mrs. Nellie Blackard spoke on "Clothes Go to College." Dinx Jones, Treasurer of the club, Linda Humphreys, Susie Agee, club Secretary, and Louise Burks modeled some of the stylish outfits.

The Liberty Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America observed National FHA Week from April 4-11 as the highlight of the year. Maria Craighead, President of the club, was in charge of preparations for the week. The celebrations ended with a mother-daughter banquet.

CHRISTMAS SPIRITS! . . . Mary DeWitt, Julie Stanley, Judy Kendrick, Judy Wilkerson, Patsy Tolley, Kandy Reynolds, Tera Yoder, Maria Craghead, Susie Agee, and Mary E. Tomlinson view the finished products in preparation for Christmas.

CAREFUL WITH THOSE SCISSORS! . . . Linda Ruff, May Bell Bowyer, and Patsy Tolley work on their clothing project for Home Economics.

Future Teachers "Invest in Learning"

Members of the Future Teachers of America worked to further interest in teaching. President Linda McKinney led the FTA, which was composed of students considering teaching as a life profession.

Such teachers as Mrs. Julia Overstreet, Mrs. Gertrude Thaxton, and Mrs. Edith Shelton (teachers in art, science, and history) gave informal talks on some personal experiences in teaching.

At several meetings, the members discussed what is expected of a teacher and the good qualities needed to teach. They also discussed financial aids to students desiring to complete the college requirements for teaching, such as the State Teacher's Scholarships.

Sue Craig, club Vice-President, and Mary Fellers, club Secretary, planned a bulletin board with the theme "Invest in Learning" for American Education Week. As a helpful and cheerful project at Christmas, the members made candy canes for the meal trays of patients in the hospital at the National Elks's Home in Bedford. To celebrate Teaching Career Month in April, the FTA held a tea for all interested members.

THE FUTURE TEACHERS . . . The officers are Linda McKinney, President; Joyce Craig, Vice-President; Mary Fellers, Secretary; and Katherine Walden, Treasurer.

IT'S A LITTLE CROOKED . . . Betty Toms and Renee Barrosse put up the FTA's certificate of affiliation with the National Chapter of FTA.

MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB OFFICERS . . . The officers are Dana Carden, Reporter; Martha Key, Chaplain; Mrs. Bolling, Sponsor; Barbara Boone, President; Randa Goode, Secretary; Bonnie Gardner, Vice-President; and Barbara Wheeler, Treasurer.

GO A-WEIGH! . . . Gwendolyn Parker, Brenda Agee, Carolyn Dooley, and Betty Amos learn about weighing during a club meeting.

Medical Careers Sponsors State Speaker

The Medical Careers Club, sponsored by the Committee on Careers, National League for Nursing, is for all students interested in exploring careers in medical, nursing, and health fields.

Members of the Medical Careers Club sponsored the visit of Miss Yowell from the State Department of Education. She came to Liberty and talked to all the junior and senior girls about the practical nursing course offered in Bedford County. She also arranged for all those girls interested in the course to tour the Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

In December, the members of the club visited the Bedford County Hospital. After a talk given by some of the nurses, the Bedford County School of Practical Nursing served refreshments for the club.

Barbara Boone, President, and Randa Goode, Secretary, participated in the nursing program that is co-ordinated with Liberty High School. The program is taught by Mrs. Hannah Bolling. Each girl attends high school for half a day and then goes to the hospital in Bedford for training.

MEDICARE? . . . Barbara Boone and Randa Goode put up a bulletin board at school which explains about the Medical Careers Club.

MRS. HANNAH BOLLING, R.N. . . . Mrs. Bolling teaches practical nursing and sponsors the Medical Careers Club.

FBLA Sends Delegates to State Convention

Mary Lawhorn served as president of the Future Business Leaders of America and helped to carry out the theme for the year, "FBLA—Future Business Leaders in Action."

The FBLA enjoyed several speakers throughout the year. "What an Employer Expects of an Employee" was the topic of Mr. Orrin Rhudy's speech. Mrs. Charlie Fleenor gave a talk on "Proper dress in the Office" and Mr. Odell Rhodes spoke on "How to Prepare for an Interview."

Three students and three teachers composed a panel which led a discussion on standards of personal conduct on the job at the active December meeting.

Mary Lawhorn, Linda Humphreys, and Brenda Hickman, were among those who attended the state FBLA convention in Richmond on April 22-23. The officers helped to install a new chapter of the FBLA at Staunton River High School.

The club gave a party at the last meeting honoring Mrs. Mishoe, sponsor of the FBLA, and the senior members.

THE OFFICERS PLAN A MEETING ... Sitting: Joyce Craig, Vice-President; Mrs. Mishoe, Sponsor; Mary Lawhorn, President. Standing: Susie Agee, Reporter; Brenda Hickman, Secretary; Elwood Johnston, Parliamentarian; Sue Kreis, Historian; and Sandra Martin, Treasurer.

FFA Learns New Farming Methods

All boys interested in agriculture had the opportunity to join the Liberty Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

For one club project the members attended the Lynchburg Farm Show in October. David Glass represented Liberty in the tractor driving contest, and L. D. English was alternate. The club members gained good pointers in judging cattle and qualities necessary for prize-winning exhibits. They also learned useful techniques for the care of livestock.

Club members were easily distinguished by their blue jackets, bearing the name and emblem of the F.F.A.

During the year, Mr. Clay and Mr. Harmon, the sponsors, led a study of farming and farm procedures. Also, various types of soil, seeds, and farm machinery were discussed.

WATCH MY FINGER! ... Bobby Hurt, Treasurer; Jimmy Creasy, President; Wayne Durham, Vice-President; L. D. English, Sentinel; Mike Lacy, Secretary; and Silas Lawhorne, Reporter, learn how to repair a truck.

WHERE ARE THE BRAKES? ... L. D. English and David Glass were FFA members who participated in the Lynchburg 14 County Farm Show.

DE Students Enter District Contest

The Distributive Education Club trains future leaders for marketing and distribution. All the members of the club are cooperative on-the-job trainees. Each member is employed at least fifteen hours a week.

President Robert Fulton helped plan the activities for the DE Fall Rally on October 28. Liberty High School was host to the DE chapters of District 7. About 450 students attended this rally and discussed activities for the coming year.

The Distributive Education Club was awarded third place for its float in the Christmas Parade of Bedford. The float was entitled "DE Rings up Sales" and was a large cash register.

On March 2, some members of the club competed with students in the DE program at Jefferson High School in Roanoke. Lonnie Parker participated in advertising, while Alton Gregory took part in job interviewing.

Near the end of school the DE Club held a picnic at Smith Mountain Lake to complete the year's activities.

NO SALE . . . The DE club officers are Linda Donald, Vice-President; Randy Lodge, Treasurer; Robert Fulton, President; Edwin Wadell, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Vicky Witt, Secretary.

"YES, THESE ARE ALL ON SALE" . . . Faye Witt, a Distributive Education student, waits on a customer at a department store where she works.

Monogram Club Consists of Varsity Lettermen

The Monogram Club consisted of all students who had earned their varsity letter during the two years at Liberty High School. The boys earned their letters in football, basketball, track, tennis, golf, or managing these sports. The girls earned their letters in basketball, as football or basketball cheerleaders, or as managers of the girl's basketball team. The Monogram Club was sponsored by Mr. Jim Cutler, Mr. Bob Worrell, Mr. Clarence Mathews, Mr. Charles Black, and Mrs. Shirley McCabe of the coaching staff.

OTHER MONOGRAM CLUB MEMBERS . . . Front Row: M. Coleman, C. Strode, F. Tomasson, J. Ryder, T. Yoder, M. Tomlinson, M. DeWitt, L. Scott, S. Johnson, B. Brewbaker. Second Row: W. Bailey, P. PEP RALLIES ARE A SCREAM . . . The basketball cheerleaders lead the cheers of the student body during a pep rally at lunchtime.

A NEW CHEER OR THE "DUCK?" . . . The J.V. basketball cheerleaders do the latest dance at a sock-hop following one of the games.

Pep Club Rallies School Spirit

Hard work and enthusiasm characterized the members of Liberty's Pep Club. With the cheerleaders and the crowd backing them, the Minutemen went on to victory time and again.

For several weeks during basketball season the club sponsored a victory bottle contest. The class showing the most school spirit by cheering the loudest claimed the brightly painted red, white, and blue bottles for their homerooms until the next pep rally. The club also sponsored dances for the student body in the gym after games.

The basketball team and the electric excitement involved in the basketball games formed the real backbone of Liberty's pep and spirit. Such determination and skill as they exhibited deserved the full support of the entire student body.

WHERE THE ACTION IS . . . Liberty's fans look and listen intently as they watch Liberty strive to win another victory.

"LET GO OF MY ARM, PICKLES SAYS" . . . John Barrett, Mike (Pickles) Coleman, Jackie Harris, Jimmy Falls, and Lloyd Goode gather in the opening huddle before they start in the game.

LIBERTY'S CHORUS . . . Front Row: H. Harper, S. Edwards, A. Bowyer, C. Lohmeyer, B. Dooley, S. Oliver, B. Lawhorn, K. Overstreet, R. Green, L. Martin, W. Wilson, A. Burch, C. Gregory, J. Chorus Makes Television Debut in Lynchburg

The Liberty High School Concert Choir strived to bring music into more of the school life. It performed during assemblies such as the music assembly in October. On November 6, the choir sang at the Hi-Y District Meeting held at Liberty. It also performed at the SCA District Workshop in November.

The Christmas season provided many opportunities for the chorus to use music. On December 19, the choir performed "The Sounds of Christmas" at Liberty. Later that same afternoon, the choir sang for the Lynchburg Christmas Basket Program. On December 21, the last day before Christmas vacation, the members of the chorus walked through the halls of Liberty singing carols.

Delores Reynolds, Mike Bryant, Campbell Johnson, and Donald Wingfield were the representatives to All-State Chorus on February 18-20.

On April 2, the Concert Choir participated in the District Music Festival at Andrew Lewis High School in Salem.

As a final event of the year, the Concert Choir sang at Graduation.

"ALL TOGETHER NOW, 1, 2, 3" . . . Mr. Hunter leads the Chorus in selections for District Festival.

Band Takes First in Christmas Parade

L.H.S. BAND . . . Front Row: F. Morgan, M. Scott, S. Vest, D. Scott, B. Chumbley, C. Custer, E. Johnson, P. Skelton, L. Yates, M. Napier, D. Waugh, W. Watson, K. Childress, W. Stevens, R. Fellers, K. Campbell, R. Ramsey, B. Turpin. Second Row: B. Latimer, C. Grant, C. Gregory, C. Allen, R. Prillaman, J. Eubank, T. Cobb, G. Watson, P. Pollard, T. Mishoe, M. Mehaffey, S. Witt, D. Glass, J. Sexton, J. Napier, J. Holdren, R. Harper, G. Saunders, N. Thompson, P. Stanley, V. Phillips, M. DeWitt, B. Phillips, R. Snyder, C. Vaughn, T. Childress. Back Row: Mr. Hunter, Director.

The Liberty High School band won its first trophy in the Bedford Christmas parade exactly one year after its first public appearance. They won competing with other bands, pony drill teams, and twirling units.

During marching season the band, conducted by Mr. John Hunter, worked hard to present entertainment for the halftime shows at football games. Along with 49 other high school bands it performed at the University of Virginia Band Day in October. It marched in the Homecoming and Christmas parades in Bedford and the Dogwood Festival Parade in Vinton.

Concert season included performances at the District S.C.A. Meeting, a Christmas concert presented jointly by band and chorus, and assembly programs.

The band concluded the year with a spring concert in May.

I HEAR A TYMPANI ... Officers are Jimmy Holdren, Drum Major; Jonathan Napier, Vice-President; Marjorie Scott, Secretary; Linda Yates, and Rosemary Prillaman, Librarians; Mr. Hunter; David Glass and Tim Childress, Uniform Captains; and Kenneth Childress, President.

New Drill Team Entertains at Half-time

"STEP HIGH GIRLS." ... Betty Lee Abbott leads the drill team during practice.

The snappy L.H.S. Drill Team, organized for the first time this year, was composed of sixteen girls and one alternate. The girls performed with the band at football games and in several parades. The drill team helped the band win the first place trophy with their performance in the Bedford Christmas Parade.

At the University of Virginia Band Day, the drill team received much favorable comment on its new red, white, and blue uniforms, as well as its well-rehearsed routine.

The girls performed during the music assemblies to "Down South", "Do-Re-Me", and other selections.

Mrs. Pat Coleman, sponsor of the drill team and a former majorette herself, gave valuable assistance to the girls through her own personal experience.

The drill team entertained at halftime during some of the basketball games. At one of the games Betty Abbott, captain of the Drill Team, led the girls in their version of the hula.

THE L.H.S. ROCKETTES ... K. Salyer, M. Dowdy, L. Martin, M. Reynolds, S. Bowden, P. Fielder, M. Eubank, show the results of their practice during a music assembly.

REACH FOR THE SKY ... W. Moore, S. Thomas, C. Gregory, B. Abbott, S. Oliver, P. Powell, P. Krantz, C. Smith display a grand finale.

From the first quarter of the first game, the Liberty High School Varsity Minutemen showed the valor and spirit which made them one of the most outstanding and impressive football teams in the history of Bedford County football.

Filled with determination, the Minutemen, guided by co-captains Lloyd Goode and Donald Wingfield, marched past six foes of varied size and strength while bowing in defeat to only four.

Led by offensive star, Jimmy Whorley, who came in second in the Blue Ridge District scoring race with 48 points, the Varsity squad accounted for 136 points in their 10 game schedule while allowing the opposition only 76 points.

The most impressive and perhaps the most desired of all victories was the 32-0 stomping of powerful Blacksburg High School from the New River District. Offensive standout Jimmy Whorley, supplied the scoring punch with runs of 61 and 55 yards for touchdowns and two more giving him a game and career high of 24 points. This loss knocked the New River champs from the ranks of the undefeated.

J.V.'s Fight Throughout Season

The J. V. Minutemen fought courageously throughout the entire season. They showed the rockhard spirit and hustle of outstanding football players.

Although their final season record was 0-6, they gained valuable experience which will benefit them in their years as members of the Varsity team. Through hard work and diligent practice, the boys perfected fundamental skills as they finished the season with an excellent display of spirit.

GET OUT OF MY WAY . . . Lloyd Goode, co-captain of Liberty Minutemen, battles Chatham for rebound while Jim Falls moves in to assist.

When they started the season, the L.H.S. Varsity Minutemen had only two lettermen returning and no starters from the preceding year. With no experience and no height to build around, they had to start from "scratch." Coach Don Meredith decided at the first of the year to play the young boys and build the team around freshman Mike Coleman. They planned to build slowly and try to have the team ready by tournament time. The team progressed beyond his expectation by surprising everyone with a 8-10 pre-tournament record, and a 4-6 district mark.

Jim Falls led the team in scoring and was near the top in the rebounding department. Freshman Mike Coleman, showing signs of being one of the better players to come from this area in sometime, averaged 12 points a game. Falls and Coleman gave the team needed outside shooting. Lloyd Goode, co-captain, provided the team with the leadership in the rough going. Morris Cofer and John Barrett battled for the center position with Cofer outstanding as a rebounder and Barrett as a scorer. Jackie Harris was the defensive sparkplug and playmaker for the team. His inspired play was a great boost for team members. Bob Graves, Browny Reynolds, and Richard Long were a big asset to the team as back-up men.

With Wayne Bailey and Charles Strode setting up the plays and big men Bill MacDaniel and Glenn Grey supplying the rebounding power, the J. V. Minutemen of Liberty managed a 4-12 record this year. Many of their games were close, well-played and lost only in the closing moments. These members of the athletic program came a long way under the coaching of Bob Worrell and gained the priceless possession of experience under his direction. Constant practice and hard work, combined with their height and ability, has produced a squad which will be a great asset to the varsity squad next year.

Varsity Baseball Team Aims

The Liberty High School baseball squad was coached this year by Jim Cutler. He was ably assisted by a new member of the coaching staff, Coach Phillip Douglas.

A fervent group of forty boys appeared the first day of practice, and from these a sound team of fifteen members was selected.

Under the patient direction of Coaches Douglas and Cutler, the team showed quite an improvement over the first one fielded by Liberty High School.

A new concept was added to the baseball season this year. A tournament was played on May 14 in Covington. The winner of this tournament took the Blue Ridge District Championship.

With the majority of the team being returning lettermen, the varsity members showed great spirit while romping to a winning season.

That long awaited night, October 22, was the first Homecoming of Liberty High. In preparation for the night's events a pep rally was held during sixth period. Miniature floats, sponsored by the school classes and numerous clubs, paraded around the gym.

The halftime activities of the game were climaxed by the crowning of Jennie Nance as Homecoming Queen. After the game, won by Franklin 13-0, a dance was held in the school gym which brought the evening to a close.

THE NIGHT THEY BURNED L.H.S. ... The finale of the halftime activities was the burning of the letters L.H.S. They were erected by Ken Walden, Lawton Saunders, and others.

Shrine Court Highlights Victorious Game

The Shrine Game activities began during the school day with a pep rally in the auditorium. That night, downtown Bedford was the scene of a colorful parade in which the Shriners, cheerleaders, drill team, and Shrine Court participated.

At halftime, the court was introduced to the crowd and Dee Jones was crowned Shrine Queen. An exciting evening came to a close with Liberty's victory over Hargrave J.V.'s 34-6.

The Christmas season arrived at Liberty amid a rush of activities and filled the students with excitement and anticipation.

The lovely Snow Court with Virginia Pierce as the reigning Queen was a highlight of the Christmas parade in Bedford.

The D.E. students worked long and hard on a float resembling a huge cash register. Although competing with 59 other units, their efforts proved worthwhile as they took home the third place prize.

Before the holidays, the homerooms were decorated and lighted Christmas trees were put in the courtyards by the student body.

The music appreciation class wrote, directed, and produced "On Christmas Eve" for the assemblies.

The band and chorus also added to the spirit of the holiday through the presentation of "The Sounds of Christmas" under the direction of Mr. John Hunter.

Scientific Ability Excels

The Bedford County Science Fair held on March 11-12 in the gym provided an opportunity for students to display their scientific achievements. They entered projects individually or in group in eighth grade, ninth grade, accelerated, biology, chemistry, physical science or math divisions. The judges made decisions concerning the winners on Friday afternoon and the projects were open to the public the next day. Mrs. Gertrude Thaxton presented awards to the winners that afternoon. The student in the junior division with the best project and the student in the senior division with the best project each received a trophy.

The top winners in the senior division took their projects to the Regional Science Fair in Roanoke.

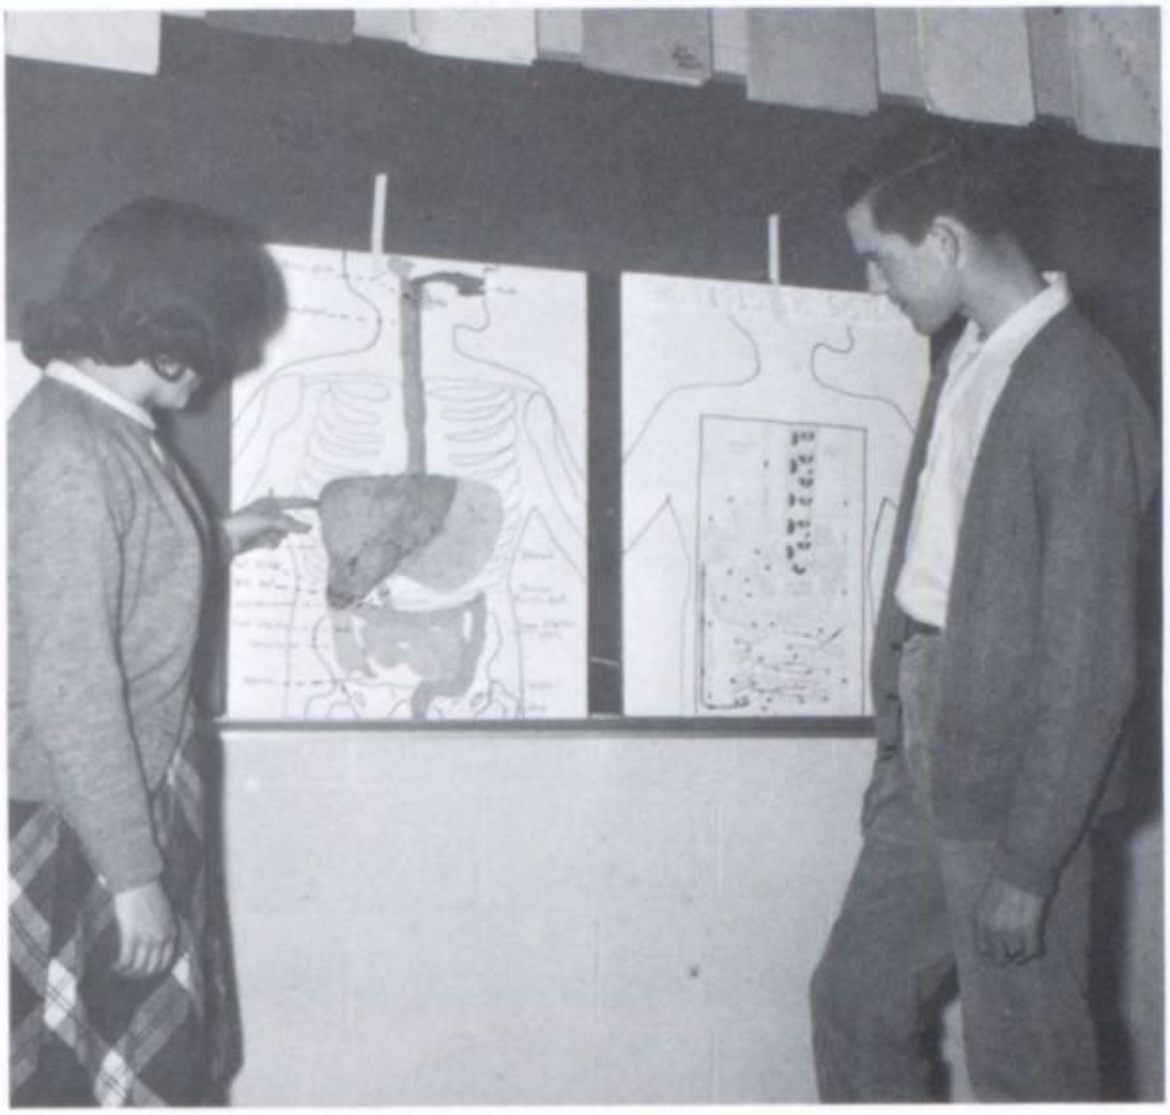
"A HA! CAUGHT IN THE ACT" . . . With an expression of surprise, Robert Lambeth looks up from his project for a second.

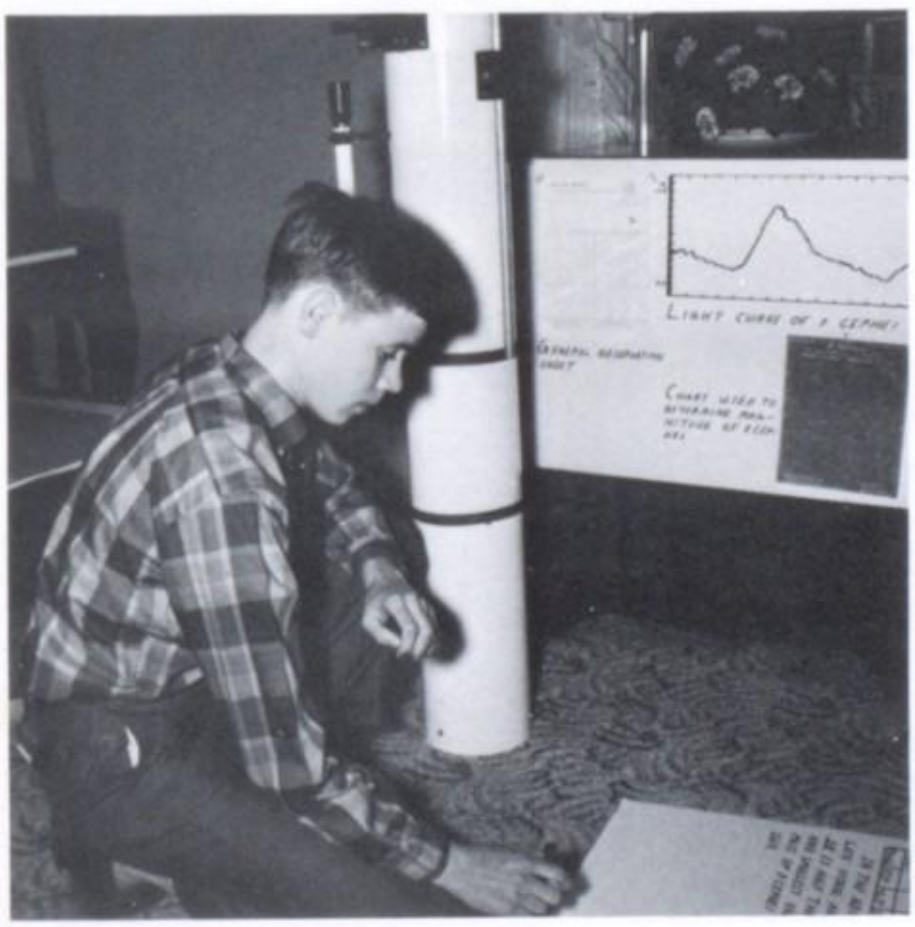
"NO, IT WON'T BITE" . . . Barbara Murchison and Kathy Carwile watch carefully as Mrs. J. J. Thaxton explains the dissection for their Science Fair project.



"DID YOU KNOW THAT YOU HAVE ONE OF THESE?" . . . Linda Sands explains a Science Fair project on the digestive system to Jimmy Byers during their biology class.

YUCCH ! ! . . . Mary Jo Fleenor wonders if its all worth it as she works on her project involving worms.

Through Science Fair



MR. CHAPPELLE, THE ASTRONOMER . . . Ken Chappelle completes his charts for his project on "Effects of Pulsation on General Structure of Cephied Variable Stars."

A LITTLE MORE TO THE RIGHT . . . Adding final touches, Jo Anne Leach exhibits posters for her project which she entered in the Westinghouse Science talent search.

Students Bring Honor to Liberty

"PRESENTING BACH AND CHOPIN" . . . Marjorie Scott and Delores Reynolds, who received first and second place, respectively, in the Bland Music contest, show off at the piano.

"ON THE COUNT OF THREE" . . . Liberty's four All-State Chorus contestants are Mike Bryant, Campbell Johnson, Delores Reynolds and Donald Wingfield.

Many of the outstanding students at Liberty High School were recognized with awards throughout the year. Several members of the Liberty Concert Choir attended All-State Chorus in Chatham and one student represented the band at All-State Band.

Several students were rewarded for their time and effort as one won an honorable mention in the National Merit Scholarship Test, another received the Lawson W. Turner Memorial trophy, three achieved superior ratings in the Time's Current Events Test, and one won first place in the local Bland Contest and competed in the regional contest.

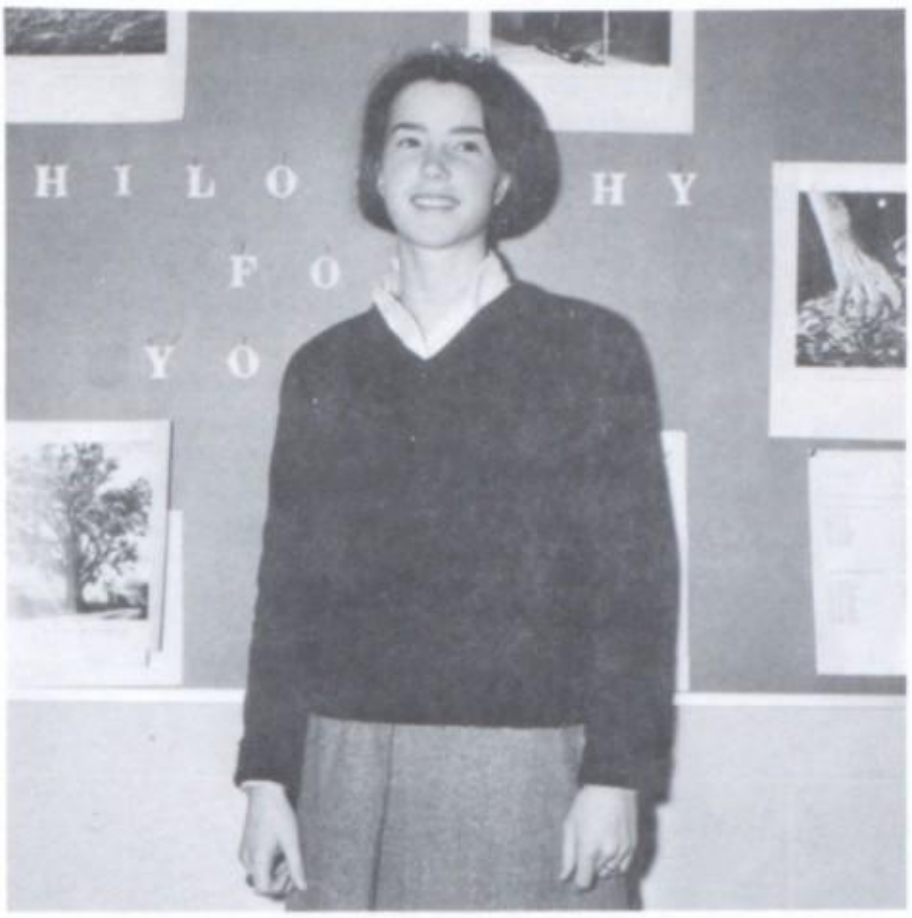
The senior class elected a girl and a boy to receive the D.A.R. and S.A.R. Good Citizenship Awards. Several students were chosen from the junior class to attend Boys' and Girls' State. Three representatives from the annual staff represented The Heritage while two members of the paper staff represented The Sentinel at S.I.P.A. in Lexington. The Senior Tri-Hi-Y achieved the needed rating to send three girls to the Model General Assembly in Richmond in the spring.

"HOW NOW BROWN COW" . . . Glenna Grove shows the cattle which won for her the Lawson W. Turner Memorial trophy.

"HOPE YOU DON'T GET CAUGHT IN THE TEACHER'S LOUNGE" . . . Philip Beckman, Jane Overstreet and Ken Walden, winners of the Time's Current Events Test, rest awhile in the teacher's lounge.

"LET'S HAVE A PARADIDDLE AND RATIMAQUE" . . . Jonathan Napier, All-State Band representative, poses with his drums.

Through Awards and Representation



OUR GOOD CITIZEN . . . Barbara Rucker is the DAR recipient from Liberty High, chosen by students of the senior class and faculty members.

"YOU SHOULD BE HAPPY" . . . Marjorie Scott, having received a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Test, smiles happily while opening her locker.

"SHOW YOUR RINGS, JUNIORS" . . . John Barrett, Bonnie Brewbaker, Tera Yoder, Jane Overstreet, and John McGehee are the Boys' and Girls' state delegates for 1966.

"WHAT KIND OF RATING DO YOU THINK WE'LL GET?" . . . Eddie Parker, Gloria Karnes, Bonnie Brewbaker, Jane Dudek, and Jane Ferguson go over their publications before leaving for S. I. P. A.

HOLD THAT POSE . . . Boys' and Girls' State alternates are Jackie Harris, Joey Laughon, Jane Dudek, Sam Hardy, Sally Williamson, John Dooley, Gail Rider, and Roger Orange.

"DIANA, ARE YOU IN THERE?" . . . Elizabeth Berry and Jane Dudek prepare to leave for their weekend at Model General Assembly. Diana Coleman also will attend as Bill Co-ordinator.

One-Act Play Receives Excellent Rating

Representatives from Liberty contended in many district competitions throughout the year, such as the One-Act Play Festival, Forensic Meet, Mead Corporation Science Essay Contest, and Latin Tournament.

"The Happy Journey" by Thornton Wilder was presented at the Blue Ridge District One-Act Play Festival at Northside High School on March 5. The play which was an abstract about family life, received a rating of excellent.

A local forensic contest was held at Liberty. Winners of the divisions of prose reading, poetry reading, and public speaking competed in the district meet in Roanoke.

Students from Liberty won six of the nine awards from the Mead Corporation Science Essay Contest. They received these awards at a banquet at the Town and Country Restaurant on March 16.

"I UTH TA HAV A LITHP" . . . Donald Wingfield, Dianne Tomlin, Howard Fine, Kay Lay, and Ken Walden are the forensics contestants from Liberty.

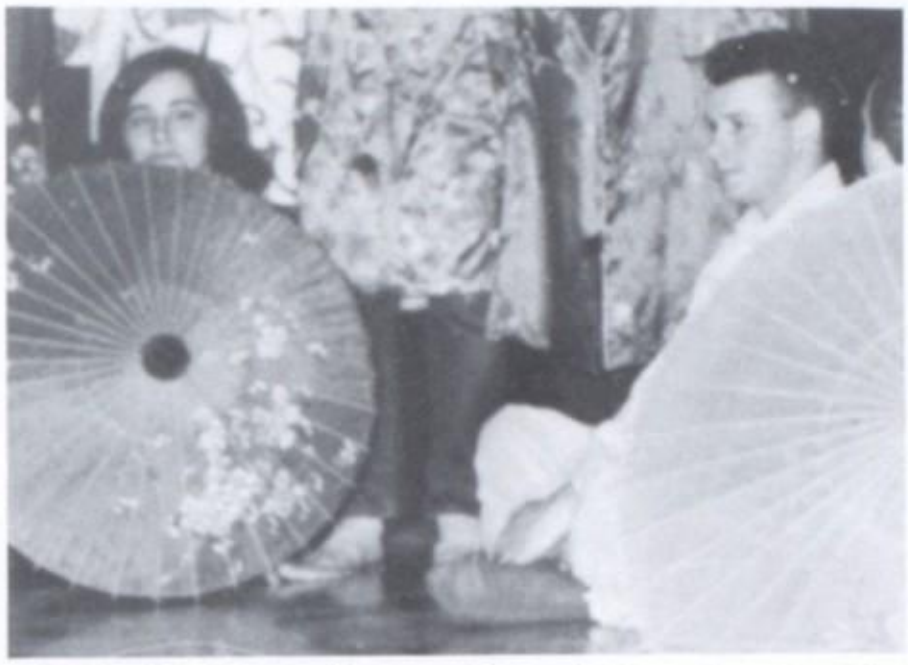
Seniors Present Oriental Comedy

The Senior Class of 1966 presented "The Teahouse of the August Moon" on April 22. The entire production was a class effort. Seniors not only formed the cast for the performance, but also composed the stage crew and publicity, make-up, and costumes committees.

An award-winning play and motion picture, "The Teahouse of the August Moon" is a comedy with its setting on Okinawa after World War II. The plot centers around United States Army officers who were sent on a mission to build a school for the natives, which through a misunderstanding became a teahouse instead.

The play was highly successful and was throughly enjoyed by both the cast and the audience.



AH SO, AH SO . . . Two members of the senior play, Van Daniels and Richard Coleman, seem a little camera shy.

JUST SINGING IN THE RAIN . . . Hopeful geisha girls learn the techniques of the trade from Lotus Blossom, played by Jennie Nance.

"BRING ON THE FOOD" . . . Okinawa villagers look on as Capt. Fisby complains to Sakini about Lotus Blossom.

THE FUNNIEST THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE PROM . . . Mary Lawhorn, Jane Overstreet, John McGehee, Mary Wilkerson and David Johnson chat between dances.

WASN'T IT JUST BEAUTIFUL! . . . Lloyd Goode, Rosemary Arney, Jimmy Falls, and Nancy Stanley leave the prom after a wonderful evening.

Juniors Bid "Aloha" to Class of '66

The junior class bade the seniors "Aloha" as they transformed the gymnasium into a sandy tropical island for the prom. The setting complete with palm trees and coconuts enhanced the splendid evening enjoyed by juniors, seniors, and their guests, as they danced to the music of Gene and the Teambeats.

The Class of 1967 planned and prepared the festivities. Committees composed of class members devised and carried out the theme through their decorations, refreshments, and entertainment.

MAKE IT PERFECT, NOW . . . Pat Wilson, Dianne Hylton, Bob Graves, Don Higgins, and J. G. Krantz work on a fence for the prom setting with anticipation of a memorable evening.

ELEVEN HONOR STUDENTS

The senior class rushed through the closing days of school in a flurry of activities.

On Senior Day in May, seniors donned bermudas and traveled to the Peaks of Otter for their class picnic.

On class night they enjoyed a delicious banquet served by junior girls especially chosen for the honor. There they listened to the reading of the class will and prophecy. Senior superlatives were introduced in a skit.

Baccalaureate was held on the Sunday before graduation and the class received an inspirational message from a local minister.

With the playing of "Pomp and Circumstance" the class of '66 marched down the aisle to begin its graduation exercises. After speeches by several of the ten Honor Students, each student proudly received his diploma from Mr. William N. Lee.

Beard, Brenda Faye; Kendall, Sylvia Joy; Luck, Rebecca Sue; McDaniel, James Carter, Jr.; Pierce, Virginia Lee; Robertson, Gayle Leigh; Rucker, Barbara Louise; Scott, Marjorie Ann; Troutman, Sandra Elizabeth; Turpin, Penelope Ellen; Twark, Shirley Jean.

Because of a tie, eleven honor students are listed instead of the regular ten.

Graduation Bestows Honors on Seniors

TRYING TO SKIP OUT, HUH? . . . This happy gang, Gary Faribault, Jimmy McDaniel, Shirley Twark, Martha Burks, Joyce Craig, Chester Roberts, and Jane Middleton load up to leave for the senior picnic.

"ARE WE LATE?" . . . Mary Elizabeth Ruff, Philip Beckman, Mary Keith Harvey, and Kenneth Childress arrive at the school for class night.

In 1882 Edison had a great idea - - and it wasn't the electric light!

The whole idea of investor-ownership of electric light and power companies began when Thomas A. Edison and a group of investors financed his first power plant more than 80 years ago.

Since then, investor-owned companies like ours have become an integral part of America's Free Enterprise system. That explains why today we have at our fingertips more electric power than any other country in the world.

And it's this same Free Enterprise system that puts at your fingertips greater opportunity, greater expectation for success than can be hoped for by any other young people in the world.
